
CHANGES IN LAND USE IN RESPONSE TO SOCIO-ECONOMIC CHANGES IN XISHUANGBANNA, PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

CAI KUI

A THESIS SUBMITTED TO THE GRADUATE SCHOOL IN PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS
FOR THE DEGREE OF
MASTER OF SCIENCE (AGRICULTURE)
IN AGRICULTURAL SYSTEM

GRADUATE SCHOOL
CHIANG MAI UNIVERSITY
SEPTEMBER 1996

CHANGES IN LAND USE IN RESPONSE TO SOCIO-ECONOMIC CHANGES
IN XISHUANGBANNA, PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

CAI KUI

THIS THESIS HAS BEEN APPROVED
TO BE A PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS
FOR THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF SCIENCE
IN AGRICULTURAL SYSTEMS

EXAMINING COMMITTEE

		CHAIRPERSON
Ms. Laxmi	Worachai
		MEMBER
Associate Prof. Dr. Aree	Wiboonpongse
		MEMBER
Dr. Kanok	Rerkasem
		MEMBER
Dr. Uraivan	Tan-Kim-Yong

September 1996

Copyright of the Graduate School, Chiang Mai University

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The author would like to express her profound gratitude to Ms. Laxmi Worachai, the author's advisor and chairperson of thesis examining committee, for her guidance, encouragement and genuine support during the whole study.

Sincere thanks and respects go to other members of examining committee, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Aree Wiboonpongse, Dr. Kanok Rerkasem, and Dr. Uraivan Tan-Kim-Yong, for their encouragement and helps in outlining the research problems and providing valuable comments at each stage of the research.

Genuine gratitude and profound appreciation also goes to the author's overseas advisor, Prof. Harold Brookfield from Australian National University, for his insightful comments and suggestions throughout the whole research. Great helps from Assoc. Prof. Guo Huijun, Assoc. Prof. Long Chunlin, Miss. Guan Yuqin, Mr. Chen Aiguo and Mr. Cun Jingyun from Kunming Institute of Botany are gratefully acknowledged.

Likewise, the author is deeply indebted to Ford Foundation and Winrock International Institute for Agricultural Development for granting the scholarship. Particularly, special thanks are extended to Dr. Nick Menzies, Ms. Rose Bautista and Ms. Victoria Sebastian for their various helps for the author's study.

Sincere thanks are due also to Yunnan Institute of Geography for granting study leave for the entire graduate study period. Particularly, the author is highly appreciate Mr. Zhou Juqian, Mr. Hu Gang, Mr. Lu Xing and Miss. Zheng Jiarong for their disinterested helps during data collection.

All AGS friends have shown their genuine kindness and friendships during the author's study. Particularly, Pawalee, Rasee, Li, Huang, Thapa, Pradya, Wang, Tam, Budsara, Sayan, Panonsak, Jarus and Xuan. It was the author's luck getting to know two of her best friends, Ms. Liu Jiang and Miss. Ma Baoying, during the study in Chiang Mai. The author learned a lot on being a good human being from their noble characters.

Any success in the author's life would not be achieved without patient support of her family. The author would like to extend her deepest love to her parents (Cai Mingyang and Qian Zhongdao), who are her source of inspiration and dedication, and whose greatest love, sacrifices and understanding can not be expressed by words. The author's hearty thanks go to two handsome men, her husband (Chen Xiaobo) and her brother (Cai Jianwei), who always stand by her with protection, encouragement and understanding.

Cai Kui

August 1996