ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my grateful appreciation and sincere thanks to chairperson Assistant Professor Dr.Sujitra Tiansawad, for her scholarly guidance, help, valuable time, encouragement, and careful attention in all aspects of this study. I gratefully thank Associate Professor Punpilai Sriareporn, my co-advisor, for her great guidance and help in conducting the research.

Sincere appreciation is extended to the people in my home university: Associate Professor Xiong Qing, home university advisor; Professor Yue Yafei, the advisor at Xi'an University; Professors Yiong Guanghua and Zhong Zhaoda, the presidents of WCUMS, and Professors Lu Yijia and Yin Lei, deans of the Faculty of Nursing of WCUMS. Special words of thanks are extended to Associate Professor Zhang Shixian, the director of nursing department of the Second Teaching Hospital of WCUMS, for her kindness and help. I wish to thank staff nurses of the Second Teaching Hospital, and staff members of Faculty of Nursing of WCUMS for their concern and support. I appreciate Mr. Wang Kai for his assistance in data analysis. Without above people's support, help, encouragement and understanding, I would never complete this study.

I am grateful and wish to thank committee members, for being excellent facilitators.

The China Medical Board of New York Inc. is acknowledged for providing financial support throughout the program.

I extend my appreciation to all staff in the Faculty of Nursing of Chiang Mai University, Xi'an Medical University, the personnel in the hospital where this study was conducted, and patients who participated in my study.

Special words of thanks are extended to my husband, Mr. Xu Shubiao, and my lovely son, Chong Chong, for their understanding, love, encouragement, emotional support and confidence in my ability to succeed. As same thanks are extended to my mother Lu Shouying, my father Wang Jiaqing, my sisters, brothers and parent-in-law, for their unended love, support and encouragement throughout my study.
