ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my thesis advisor, Assistant Professor Wanpen Eamjoy for her scholarly guidance, encouragement and patience. An equal thank goes to my coadvisor, Assistant Professor Thiphaphorn Tungamnuay, and my Chinese advisor, Professor Liu Miao for their guidance and assistance.

My deep appreciation is given to my academic advisor, Associate Professor Chaweewan Thongchai for her emotional support and care. My appreciation is also extended to Assistant Professor Dr. Achara Sukonthasarn, Associate Professor Chaweewan Tongchai, Dr. Pikul Nuntachaiphan, Assistant Professor Dr. Khanokporn Sucamvang, and the head nurse of female orthopedic ward, Ms. Laddawan Singkamfoo, for their recommendations and help validating my instrument.

Chiang Mai University in Thailand and Xi'an Medical University in China are acknowledged for administering the program. My greatly appreciation is also given to China Medical Board of New York, Inc. for providing financial support throughout my study. Sincere appreciation goes to Professor Yang Yinhua, Dean of Faculty of Nursing, Shanghai Medical University, for her recommendation, assistance and support.

I would also like to express my appreciation to Professor Xu Jian Guang, the head nurse of hand surgical ward, Madame Su Ya Ping and Ms. Wang Bi Hong, the staff nurses, for their suggestions and help during the time of data collection. I also express my thanks to all my subjects for their cooperation in the study.

Finally, my special appreciation goes to my parents for their kindly help taking care of my little daughter, which make it possible for my leaving home to study. I recognize the contribution of my husband, Mr. Rui Wen Nan, and thank him for his love, understanding, and support.
