ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I would like to express my deep appreciation and sincere gratitude to my major advisor, Assistant Professor Wanpen Eamjoy for her scholar guidance, encouragement, and support. An equal thanks are given to Dr. Pikul Nantachaipan, my co-advisor for her valuable suggestion and assistance, and also to Associate Professor Marayart Na Nakorn, my academic advisor, and Professor Gao Jianming, my Chinese advisor in Xi'an Medical University, for their guidance and support.

My special gratitude is extended to all the experts from Chiang Mai University who contributed their constructive suggestion for this study. I would like to express my thanks to the staff of the Ophthalmic Department of the First Teaching Hospital of West China University of Medical Sciences (WCUMS) for their assistance throughout the period of data collection.

Sincere appreciation is extended to Professor Cheng Yijuan, Director of Nursing Department of the First Teaching Hospital of West China University of Medical Sciences (WCUMS), Professor Yin Lei, Dean of the School of Nursing of WCUMS, and Associate Professor Li Jiping, Associate Dean of the School of Nursing of WCUMS, for providing me the opportunity to enter this program, and for their encouragement, recommendations, and support throughout my study.

The China Medical Board of New York, Inc. is deeply acknowledged for providing financial support. Chiang Mai University in Thailand and Xi'an Medical University in China are also acknowledged for conducting the program.

Very special thanks are extended to my husband, Dr. Deng Yingping and my son, Deng Yuhua, for their endless love, understanding, and emotional support. Equal thanks are given to my parents, my mother-in-law, my sister and brother.

I extend special thanks to Mrs. Liao Jinying and Mrs. Zeng Jihong, my colleagues in the Department of Ophthalmology of WCUMS for their assistance and to the clients participated in my study for their willingness to share information. Without above person's support and careful concern I would never complete this study.
