

RECEIVING FAMILY CAREGIVING AS PERCEIVED
BY PEOPLE LIVING WITH HIV/AIDS

NAENGOI YANWAREE

A THESIS SUBMITTED TO THE GRADUATE SCHOOL IN PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS
FOR THE DEGREE OF
DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY
IN NURSING

GRADUATE SCHOOL
CHIANG MAI UNIVERSITY
NOVEMBER 2002

RECEIVING FAMILY CAREGIVING AS PERCEIVED
BY PEOPLE LIVING WITH HIV/AIDS

NAENGOI YANWAREE

A THESIS HAS BEEN APPROVED
TO BE A PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS
FOR THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY
IN NURSING

EXAMINING COMMITTEE

Waruna Fongkaew
..... CHAIRMAN
Assistant Professor Dr. Warunee Fongkaew

Wichit Srisuph
..... MEMBER
Associate Professor Dr. Wichit Srisuphan

W. Senaratana
..... MEMBER
Associate Professor Wilawan Senaratana

Prakin Suchaxaya
..... MEMBER
Assistant Professor Dr. Prakin Suchaxaya

Aranya Chaowalit
..... MEMBER
Associate Professor Dr. Aranya Chaowalit

7 November 2002

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Many individuals have contributed their time and effort toward the completion of this dissertation. I, therefore, realize that my words cannot express all of my gratefulness to these people who have kindly helped me through the dissertation process.

Firstly, the success of this dissertation has been attributed to extensive support and assistance from Assistant Professor Dr. Warunee Fongkaew, chair of my dissertation advisory committee. I feel deeply indebted to her excellent assistance and guidance throughout my program study. Thanks for the knowledge and experience of phenomenological study she had shared and support. My deepest gratitude is extended to the committee members, Associate Professor Dr. Wichit Srisuphan and Associate Professor Wilawan Senaratana for their warmth and encouragement as well as Assistant Professor Dr. Prakin Suchaxaya and Associate Professor Dr. Aranya Chaowalit for her invaluable thoughtful suggestions.

I am very grateful to the Ministry of University Affairs in providing partial financial support for my dissertation. Great appreciation is also offered to all the experts who gave me helpful suggestions to establish the interview guide. I am greatly indebted to my informants who willingly shared their experiences with me and provided insight regarding caregiving provided by their family members. Their participations made the completion of the present study possible. I would like to acknowledge Assistance Professor Anchalee Chayanuwatr, Instructor of Institute of Liberal Arts, Walailak University; Mr. John Cadet, the lecturer and English language advisor of Chiang Mai University; and Miss Saowanee Ekpanyachai, the translator of Reuters (Thailand) Co.,Ltd., for giving helpful suggestions to improve my English writing.

I am sincerely thankful to Associate Professor Pikul Boonchuang, Associate Professor Dr. Chawapornpan Chanprasit, Assistant Professor Waraporn Lertpoonwilaiikul, and Dr. Pikul Nantachaiphon for their kind and continuing support, and I would like to express my thank to my doctoral classmates for assistance and experiences sharing. A lot of thanks also go to staff and students at Chiang Mai University for their regular concern of me.

I would like to acknowledge Walailak University and my faculty who allowed me time to study, and my colleagues who had to share my responsibilities so that I could continue my study. My deepest gratitude goes to Prof. Dr. Somchit Hanuchareonkul for her allowing me time to study, and to Associate Professor Dr. Siriorn Sindhu and Assistant Professor Dr. Valla Tantayotai for their love, understanding and support.

Finally, I am truly indebted to my parents, my younger sister, my husband, and my children for their love, understanding, and encouragement throughout my endurance process. Their love and support are never-ending.

Naengnoi Yanwaree