

DECISION MAKING REGARDING CESAREAN SECTION
AMONG THAI PREGNANT WOMEN

CHAWEEWAN YUSAMRAN

A THESIS SUBMITTED TO THE GRADUATE SCHOOL IN PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS
FOR THE DEGREE OF
DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY
IN NURSING

ลิขสิทธิ์มหาวิทยาลัยเชียงใหม่

Copyright© by Chiang Mai University

All rights reserved

GRADUATE SCHOOL
CHIANG MAI UNIVERSITY

FEBRUARY 2003

DECISION MAKING REGARDING CESAREAN SECTION
AMONG THAI PREGNANT WOMEN

CHAWEEWAN YUSAMRAN

A THESIS HAS BEEN APPROVED
TO BE A PARTIAL FULFILLMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS
FOR THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY
IN NURSING

EXAMINING COMMITTEE

Wichit Srisuphan CHAIRMAN

Associate Professor Dr. Wichit Srisuphan

Sukanya Parisunyakul MEMBER

Associate Professor Dr. Sukunya Parisunyakul

Kasara Sripichyakan MEMBER

Associate Professor Dr. Kasara Sripichyakan

Linchong Pothiban MEMBER

Assistant Professor Dr. Linchong Pothiban

Kobkul Phanchaoenworakul MEMBER

Associate Professor Dr. Kobkul Phanchaoenworakul

5 February 2003

©Copyright by the Graduate School, Chiang Mai University

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am grateful and wish to thank the chairperson of my doctoral dissertation committee, Associate Professor Dr. Wichit Srisuphan, for her scholarly guidance, interest and support throughout this study. I would like to extend my appreciation to my co-advisors, Associate Professor Dr. Sukanya Parisunyakul and Associate Professor Dr. Kasara Sripichyakan, for their kindness, support and tireless efforts in guiding me. Sincere appreciation is extended as well to Assistant Professor Dr. Linchong Pothiban, for her useful advice and recommendations.

I would like to thank Associate Professor Dr. Siriorn Sindhu for her advice and guidance on my early efforts while I was studying at Faculty of Nursing, Mahidol University. My gratitude is also extended to Associate Professor Dr. Ann J. Clark and Professor Dr. Jan L. Wallander of the University of Alabama at Birmingham, U.S.A., for their time, experience and for guiding me in developing my proposal and to Dr. G. Lamar Robert for his kindness as an editor.

I am grateful to Associate Professor Dr. Tassana Boonthong, former Dean of the Faculty of Nursing, Mahidol University for providing me an opportunity to study at Chiang Mai University; Associate Professor Dr. Kobkul Phancharoenworakul, Dean of the Faculty of Nursing, Mahidol University, for her invaluable advice to this research. My appreciation is also extended to Associate Professor Dr. Wipada Kunaviktikul, Dean of the Faculty of Nursing, Chiang Mai University, for providing an excellent learning environment which facilitated my study here.

I also would like to thank all the personnel of the Obstetric and Gynecological Departments of the hospitals included in this study, especially those who worked in the prenatal clinics. My special thanks are given to the pregnant women who participated in this study for their cooperation.

Moreover, I would like to extend whole-hearted thanks to all the lecturers who have guided my search for knowledge and academic experience during my study at Mahidol University, Chiang Mai University and the University of Alabama at Birmingham, U.S.A.; to the Ministry of University Affairs which provided a scholarship for my studies; and Graduate School of Chiang Mai University which provided partial budget support for my dissertation.

Furthermore, I would like to thank to my colleagues, friends and classmates at those universities who are always friendly and supportive me throughout my study.

Special words of thanks are due to my parents 'Mr. Fein and Mrs. Pissamai', my older sisters 'Suphin Rawara, Prapha Fongsarun and Ampai', my younger brother 'Narongsak', and my special friends 'Mr. Sitpichai and Mrs. Saisunee Khowsurat' for their love, never-ending encouragement, care, understanding and tremendous support that inspired me to complete this dissertation.

All of these people have been an invaluable part of this work, and I will be forever grateful to them.

Chaweewan Yusamran