ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deep sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Professor Dr. Tavisakdi Ramingwong for his helpful advice and valuable guidance throughout my study. Part of the hydro-meteorological data that used in this study came from Department of Groundwater Resources, Ministry of Natural Resources and Environment; Northern Meteorological Center, Thai Meteorological Department, Ministry of Information and Communications Technology; Hydrological and Water Management Center for Upper Northern Region, Royal Irrigation Department, Ministry of Agriculture and Cooperatives, for which the author is grateful. I wish to express my gratefully thanks to Mr. Bunyut Borriboon for his advice and training on MATLAB program. Finally, very special thanks to my father, Mr. Bongkoch Uppasit, and my mother, Ms. Sumpaotong Uppasit, for their financial support and encouragement.
