This research would not have been possible without the invaluable assistance from many fine people to whom I would like to express my gratitude and appreciation here. I am indebted to my advisers, Asst. Prof. Dr. Pachongkarn Phuvipadawat and Asst. Prof. Dr. Nitida Adipattaranan, whose ideas have greatly benefited to this study since its preliminary stage through a number of discussions. I am also indebted to Asst. Prof. Dr. Anchalee Wongla who kindly gave comments and suggestions to develop this work.

I am particularly grateful to Ms. Anne Pierce, Mr. Jonathan Sampson, Mr. Quentin C. Kitson, and Ajarn Sasinee Kheunkaew who kindly rated the students' writing. My special thanks are to Ajarn Poonrat Sangnoom for her help to launch this work and Mr. Bundit Kantiwang for his support in developing the courseware.

I am grateful to Asst. Prof. Dr. Prapatsorn Krasaechai who profoundly taught me about linguistic perspective. I am also grateful to Ajarn Kusuma Sukasem who inspired me via her instruction on language-teaching pedagogy.

I am thankful to my beloved Mom, Dad and my sisters who take great care of me and help me through all kinds of problems since I was born into this world.

I am also thankful to my beloved wife Sirirat who encourages and helps me in times of resentment and my special thanks are also to her parents.

Last, but not, of course, least, I am indebted to the Lord Buddha whose enlightenment strengthens and empowers my mind through all harsh times.
