ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Gobwute Rujjanagul for his continued support and valuable advice during my graduate program. I would acknowledge my committee members, Dr. Tawee Tunkasiri for many insightful suggestions. Also I acknowledge sincerely Dr. Jerapong Tontrakoon for being my committee member, providing valuable information and suggestions on this project.

It was a turning point in my life to work with Dr. David Cann at Iowa State University. I would like to extend my deepest appreciation and thanks to him for his guidance, teaching, encouragement, patience and valuable advice. The invaluable lessons that I learned from him are not only in the academics but also in a real life. I also owe special thanks to Dr. Xiaoli Tan for his insightful advice, time and patience in teaching me the principles of detailed technical advice and a lot of support in the program.

I would also like to acknowledge the office and technical staff at the MARL and Electroceramics group in the MSE department at Iowa state University without whom none of this would have been possible. I also would like to acknowledge the Thailand Research Fund (TRF), Graduate School at Chiang Mai, Faculty of Science Chiang Mai University and University and Ministry of University Affairs in Thailand for their financial support.

Thanks to my group members and my friends at Iowa state Seymen Augun, Bruce Gall , Nathan Ashmore, Chien Chih huang, Seunghwa Kwon, Melbure

Lemieux and many others who I have worked hard and played hard with over the one and a half years. I also would like to thank Miss Wanwilai Chaisan for her assistance and art works in the manuscript of the paper in Journal of Applied Physics. I also want to thank He Hui and Meagen Marguardt for his help with Transmission Electron Microscope and for her help with Raman spectra collection.

I want to thank my senior alumni and friends at Chiang Mai University, Drs. Samart Kongtaweelert, Aurawan Udomporn, Wandee Onreabroy, Mr. Teerachai Bongkarn, Miss Rungnapa Tipakontitikul, Mrs Chumpulnuch Poochmak, Miss Netima Sawangwan, Miss Wandee Thamjaree, Miss Anocha Munpakdee, and Miss Wanwilai Chaisan and their families for all the immeasurable help and encouragement during on and off-campus life.

Finally, I wish to thank my parents, Nipon Vittayakorn and Soisuda Vittayakorn, for making many sacrifices for my long term education since I entered elementary school. I owe everything I have and everything I have become to my family whose love and support cannot be overstated.
