ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. Somporn Chantara, for her kind supervision and support throughout this study. I also gratefully acknowledge Dr. Urai Tengjaroenkul from Chemistry Department, Chiang Mai University, and Dr. Sarawut Thepanondh from Pollution Control Department for their suggestions and comments.

I gratefully acknowledge the Postgraduate Education and Research Program in Chemistry, PERCH, for the financial support along this study program. I also acknowledge the Pollution Control Department (PCD) for providing the data of pollutants level in Chiang Mai.

I would like to thank Ms. Thanaporn Na-Chiangmai and Mr. Jane Chantarasupasen for their guidance in the laboratory. I am also thank Assoc. Prof. Dr. Hans Mosbaek and Mr. Kabindra Man Sakya for his kind help in providing the polyethylene tubes.

As a personal acknowledgement, I wish to extend my heartfelt gratitude to my parents, my brother for their encouragement and inspiration. Finally, I would like to thank Mr. Sanchai Voraval and all my friends in the Pollution Monitoring Research Laboratory (PMRL), Department of Chemistry, Faculty of Science, who had helped me to carry out this work.
