ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author would like to gratefully thank supervisors Asst. Prof. Dr. Wutti Uttamo and Asst. Prof. Dr. Prayote Ounchanum for their supervision, encouragement and criticism during doing this thesis. My thanks also due to the Department of Mineral Resources, my head office for permission to study the degree of Master of Science, especially the then Head of Gemstone Section, Mr. Rak Hansawek. Thanks are also extended to many people for their assistance during this study, my family particularly Dr. Aurasorn Saraphanchotwittaya; my love teacher Dr. Benjawan Rattanasatien; special thanks for kindness of Dr. Assanee Meesook, Dr. Montri Choowong, and Mr. Sydney Reebbs. And all members of the Department of Geological Sciences, Chiang Mai University, for their hospitality, companionship, support, encouragement and many facilities.

The author would also like to acknowledge the King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambhai Barni Memorial Foundation and the Graduate School of Chiang Mai University, for financial supports.

Finally, very special thanks are given to Miss Krittiya Pattamalai and Miss Supaporn Rungsuwansakoon for their humor and encouragement.
