ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I gratefully acknowledge the contributions of the following people who help to create this thesis.

To my dear advisor, Asst.Prof.Dr.Surapol Natakankitkul, for his excellent guidance, sharing his valuable time and great support. Without his recommendation and support, this thesis would not be successful.

Furthermore, I would like to express my appreciation and many thanks to Assoc. Prof. Dr. Nuchnart Jonglekha, my co-advisor for her useful comments, suggestions on research planning and preparation of this manuscript and her permission to use the equipment in the Royal Project Foundation.

Many thanks to my co-advisor, Assoc.Prof.Dr.Boonsom Liawruangrath for her good advice on using the equipment and solving the problems found during running the experiment.

I also thank Asst.Prof.Dr.Nantarit Chokethaworn for this useful comment also.

I also would like to pay my gratitude and thanks to the Thai Research Fund (TRF), for financial support.

Finally, special thanks due to my family, my friends and the other who facilitate in every piece of my research work and gave me an encouragement.
