ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In completing my dissertation, I owe special thanks to many people who have been involved and helped me through this academic experience. I would like to thank the midlife professional women in Chiang Mai, who welcomed me into their lives and their workplaces. Their participation and willingness to share their stories and allow me to represent their voices on health meanings and health care practices made this study possible.

I wish to thank the chair of my dissertation committee, Associate Professor Dr. Sujitra Tiansawad for her professionalism and excellence as a teacher and mentor. I appreciated her constant encouragement, open-mindedness, patience, and extremely helpful comments. I deeply thank Associate Professor Dr. Chawapornpan Chanprasit whose professionalism had a significant influence on my dissertation. I am grateful for her timely feedback on the dissertation. I am especially grateful to Associate Professor Dr. Christine V. Newburn-Cook and Associate Professor Dr. Kaysi Eastlick Kushner for their valuable instruction, intellectual guidance, patience, friendship, caring, and willingness to edit this document.

I wish to thank my colleagues in Obstetric and Gynecological Nursing

Department, Faculty of Nursing who assumed the teaching load while I was on leave to pursue my graduate studies. My sincere gratitude and thanks is extended to my doctoral classmates for their encouragement, understanding, and support when I thought I might never finish my dissertation. I am grateful to Lecturer Dr. Ouyporn Tonmulkayakul for her intellectual support, Associate Professor Umpai

Charuwatcharapaniskul for her support in editing the format of my dissertation, and many other friends who continue to believe in me and carry a vision of what could be.

Most importantly, I want to express my deep love and gratitude to my family. I am grateful to my parents, Mr. Jipong Wong and Mrs. Ladda Chareonsanti for instilling in me a curiosity about life, a love of learning, and an endless true love. I am appreciative of the overflowing love and support of my brother, Mr. Werapan Chareonsanti, and my sister-in-law, Mrs. Siriwan Chareonsanti, as well as my sisters, Mrs. Doungdean Kaipet, Ms. Jiraporn Chareonsanti, and Mrs. Jindarat Trakultong.

A special gratitude is expressed to Faculty of Nursing, Chiang Mai University, which provided me with financial support during my studying, the Graduate School of Chiang Mai University and the Thai Health Promotion Foundation for providing me research grant.
