ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to express my grateful and deepest appreciation to Assoc. Prof. Dr. Duangta Kanjanapothi, my thesis advisor for her kindness, excellent instruction and valuable guidance. This thesis could not be completed without interest and encouragement of her.

I am deeply indebted and grateful to Asst. Prof. Dr. Tawat Taesotikul, my thesis co-advisor for his supervision, encouragement, computer graphic and advice during this research

I am grateful to the staff in the Department of Pharmacology, Faculty of Medicine, Chiang Mai University, especially Dr. Thitikarn Wongcome, Dr. Parirat Khonsung for their kindness and guidance.

I am also special thanks to Mrs. Doungporn Amornlerdpisan and Mrs. Ratchanee Somwong for their advice and teaching on laboratory technique.

The financial supported from the Commission on Higher Education-Thailand Research Fund is gratefully acknowledged.

Finally, I am especially grateful to my family for their supportive, helpful, understanding and encouragement.
