ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my thesis advisors, Prof. Dr. Hafez Mohamed Hafez, Prof. Karl-Hans Zessin, Dr. Nattawooti Sthitmatee for their good guidance, constructive comments and kind support throughout the thesis study.

I wish to convey my warm and sincere thanks to Dr. Maximilian Baumann and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Lertrak Srikitjakarn for giving me the opportunity to study in this course and this thesis topic. Their nice help, constant advice and best support would be highly appreciated. And also special thanks to Thai Government for giving me the financial support.

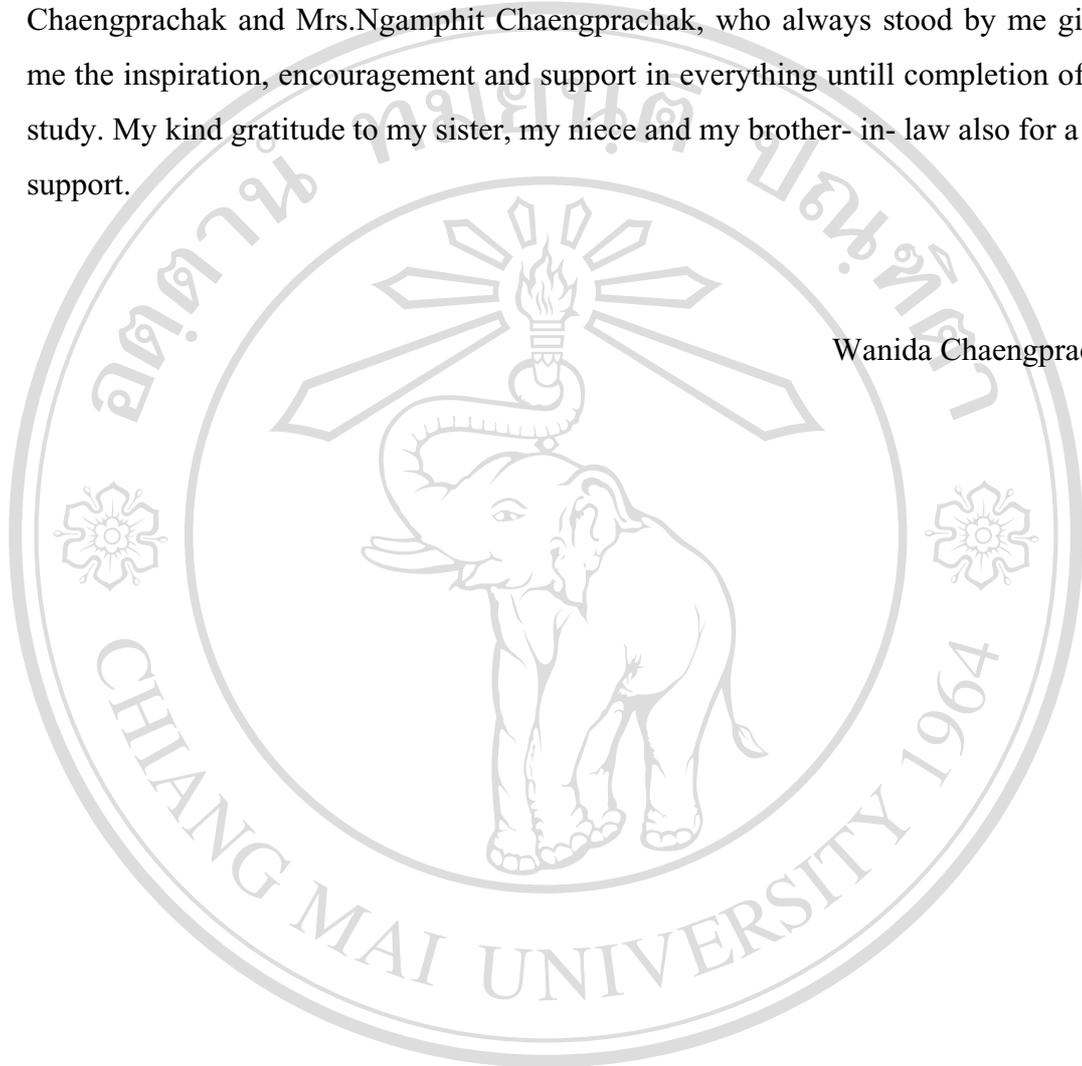

I am deeply grateful to Prof. Dr. Reinhard Fries. His wide knowledge and his logical way of thinking have been of great value for me. My sincere thank also goes to Asst. Prof. Dr. Kwanchai Kreausukon, Asst. Prof. Dr. Pawin Padungtod and Dr. Prapas Patchanee for their good advice, kind suggestions and help throughout this study.

I would like to convey special thanks to all laboratory staff and technicians at the Department of Veterinary Public Health, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Chiang Mai University, all staff at the Institute of Meat Hygiene and Technology, Freie Universität Berlin, all staff at Veterinary Public Health Centre for Asia Pacific and all staff at the Postgraduate Studies in International Animal Health, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Freie Universität Berlin for their help in providing the good facilities during my study time. I would also like to express my special thank to staff members of the private company and their farmers for their support in sampling.

Many thanks to my friends, Mr Kittichai Unjit, Miss Nattakarn Awaiwanont, Miss Nion Boonprasert, Miss Bhunikar Wongbundit for a nice help and for accompanying me to the farms.

Finally, I would like to express my gratitude to my parents, Mr.Kaeo Chaengprachak and Mrs.Ngamphit Chaengprachak, who always stood by me giving me the inspiration, encouragement and support in everything untill completion of this study. My kind gratitude to my sister, my niece and my brother- in- law also for a nice support.

Wanida Chaengprachak
