TABLE OF CONTENTS

	1 age
Acknowledgements	iii
English Abstract	v
Thai Abstract	viii
List of Tables	xiii
List of Figures	xiv
Abbreviations and Glossary	xvi
CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION	R
1.1 Background of the Study	C
1.2 Research Objectives and Questions	3
1.2.1 Research Objectives	3
1.2.2 Research Questions	3
1.3 Literature Review and Project Rationale	4
1.4 Conceptual Framework	7
1.4.1 The Institutionalization of Modern 'Religions'	12
1.4.2 Local Agency	15
1.5 Research Methodology	21
1.5.1 Scope of the Project	21
1.5.2 Research Site	21
1.5.3 Analytical Units	23
1.6 Methods of Research	25
1.7 Organization of the Study	-26
CHAPTER 2 HISTORICAL BACKGROUND	28
2.1 The Tai Lue	28
2.2 Theravada Buddhism in Sipsong Panna	29
2.3 The Lue Temple and Novice Ordination	32
2.4 The Integration of Sipsong Panna into the Chinese Nation	-State 35
2.5 Ethnic Policy and the Repression of Buddhism	37

TABLE OF CONTENTS (Continued)

		Page
2	.6 Summary	42
CHAPTER 3 F	ORMAL INSTITUTIONALIZATION	44
3	.1 Introduction	44
3	.2 The Third Plenum and the Recovery of Religious Policy	45
3	.3 The Buddhist 'Revival': From Repression to Regulation	47
3	.4 The Reconstruction of Local Religious Structures	50
3	.5 Consolidating the Center: National and Trans-national Links	56
3	.6 Khuba Longjom	59
3	.7 Ambiguous Positions	64
3	.8 Regulating the Monkhood	67
3	.9 Contestation	69
3	.10 Summary	71
CHAPTER 4 M	IARKET ENGAGEMENTS AND THE REPRESENTATIO	N
	OF BUDDHISM	73
4	.1 Introduction	73
4	.2 Tourism and Ethnicity in the PRC	74
4	.3 Meilide Xishuangbanna	79
4	.4 The Representation of Buddhism	81
4	.5 Monks and the New Economy	86
4	.6 Wat Luang Muang Lue	90
	4.6.1 Religious and Political Legitimation	94
	4.6.2 Managing Wat Luang	97
	4.6.3 Contesting Sacred Space	102
4	.7 Summary	104
CHAPTER 5 T	THE INSTITUTIONALIZATION OF BUDDHIST
yrigni ~ i	EDUCATION	107
5	.1 Introduction	107
5	.2 Monastic versus Public Education in Sipsong Panna	108
5	.3 A Contested Tradition: The 'New Tai Script'	109

TABLE OF CONTENTS (Continued)

		Page
	5.4 Socio-economic Conditions	112
	5.5 Wat Pajie and the Buddhist Institute	115
	5.6 The New Buddhist Institute at Wat Luang	119
	5.7 Problems of Integration	121
	5.8 Summary	125
CHAPTER	6 CONCLUSIONS - THE LIMITS OF REVIVAL	127
	6.1 Introduction	127
	6.2 Reductive Dichotomies	128
	6.3 The Limits of Revival	135
BIBLIOGRA	АРНУ	138
CURRICUL	UM VITAE	148

ลิปสิทธิ์มหาวิทยาลัยเชียงใหม่ Copyright[©] by Chiang Mai University All rights reserved

LIST OF TABLES

Temples, pagodas and members of the Sangha in Sipsong Panna – A	49
1990 survey
Temples, Pagodas and Members of the Sangha in Jinghong City – A	50
1990 Survey
	1990 survey Temples, Pagodas and Members of the Sangha in Jinghong City – A

ລິບສິກສົນหາວົກຍາລັຍເຮີຍວໃหມ່ Copyright[©] by Chiang Mai University All rights reserved

LIST OF FIGURES

Figu	re Solo Solo	Page
1.1	The institutionalization of Buddhism in Sipsong Panna	20
1.2	Location of Sipsong Panna within the PRC	22
1.3	The 'Economic Quadrangle'	22
2.1	Lue Villagers attend a ceremony inside the Vihaan (Ordination Hall) of a Buddhist temple in Sipsong Panna	31
2.2	A group of novices-to-be (kha yom) in a village in the Muang Hai Area	24
	February 2005	33
2.3	Novice ordination ceremony in a village in the Muang Hai area -
	January 2008	34
3.1	The temple of Ban Tin (in Jinghong City) in the 1980s	49
3.2	The 'Octogonal Pavillion', a famous Bosut in the Chiang Jeng
	(Ch: Jingzhen) area	52
3.3	The old Vihaan of Wat Pajie, demolished at the end of 2008	55
3.4	Lue monks and novices participating in an awareness-raising activity on	L
	World AIDS Day - December 1 st 2006	57
3.5	Monks and novices during a crafts training session conducted by a former monk at Wat Pajie - August 2006	58
3.6	Khuba Longjom is carried to Wat Pajie on the day of his ordination	61
3.7	Attendants take the leaves of the Ho Dio where Khuba Longjom was ritually bathed during his ordination ceremony	61
3.8	Khuba Longjom during the ceremonial alms-collection marking the end of the Buddhist lent retreat (Ok Wasaa)	65
4.1	An official representation of the Dai Minzu	77
4.2	An image from the daily re-enactment of the 'Water Splashing Festival'
	at the Dai Garden in Muang Ham	80
4.3	Wat Suon Muon in Muang Ham	83

xiv

LIST OF FIGURES (Continued)

4.5 Visitors to Wat Pajie near the entrance connecting the Temple to Manting Park 8 4.6 Wat Pajie monks participating in a ceremony blessing the tea produced under the temple brand 8 4.7 Khuba Longjom and the Head of the Yunnan Buddhist Association, Mr. Dao Shuren, with a tea company manager 8 4.8 An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction 9 4.9 The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang 9 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 9 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 10 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 11 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 11 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 11 5.4 The Stach of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Tem	ligure	e	Page
Manting Park 8 4.6 Wat Pajie monks participating in a ceremony blessing the tea produced under the temple brand 8 4.7 Khuba Longjom and the Head of the Yunnan Buddhist Association, Mr. Dao Shuren, with a tea company manager 8 4.8 An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction 9 4.9 The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang 9 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 9 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 10 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 11 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 11 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 11 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 11	.4	A promotional image of Dai girls bathing in a river	84
 4.6 Wat Pajie monks participating in a ceremony blessing the tea produced under the temple brand 4.7 Khuba Longjom and the Head of the Yunnan Buddhist Association, Mr. Dao Shuren, with a tea company manager 4.8 An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction 4.9 The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 4.15 Tourists visiting Wat Luang 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 	.5	Visitors to Wat Pajie near the entrance connecting the Temple to under the temple brand 8 4.7 Khuba Longjom and the Head of the Yunnan Buddhist Association, Mr. Dao Shuren, with a tea company manager 8 4.8 An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction 9 4.9 The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang 9 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 9 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 9 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 10 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 11 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 11 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 11 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 11		Manting Park	87
 4.7 Khuba Longjom and the Head of the Yunnan Buddhist Association, Mr. Dao Shuren, with a tea company manager 4.8 An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction 4.9 The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 4.15 Tourists visiting Wat Luang 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 	.6	Wat Pajie monks participating in a ceremony blessing the tea produced
Mr. Dao Shuren, with a tea company manager84.8An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction94.9The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang94.10Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 200794.11Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 200794.12Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 200794.13Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 200994.14Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811		under the temple brand	89
 4.8 An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction 4.9 The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 4.15 Tourists visiting Wat Luang 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 	.7	Khuba Longjom and the Head of the Yunnan Buddhist Association,
 4.9 The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 4.15 Tourists visiting Wat Luang 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 		Mr. Dao Shuren, with a tea company manager	89
 4.10 Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 4.15 Tourists visiting Wat Luang 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 	.8	An image of the Vihaan of Wat Luang during its construction	92
Wat Luang - November 200794.11Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 200794.12Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 200794.13Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 200994.14Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811	.9	The giant Buddha image presiding over Wat Luang	94
 4.11 Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 4.15 Tourists visiting Wat Luang 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 	.10	Tibetan monks chanting during the inauguration ceremony of
November 200794.12Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 200794.13Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 200994.14Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811		Wat Luang - November 2007	95
 4.12 Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of Wat Luang - November 2007 4.13 Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 2009 4.14 Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action 4.15 Tourists visiting Wat Luang 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 	.11	Crowds attending the inauguration ceremony of Wat Luang -
Wat Luang - November 200794.13Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 200994.14Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811		November 2007	96
4.13Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's management of Wat Luang - December 200994.14Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811	.12	Political and religious authorities at the opening ceremony of management of Wat Luang - December 200994.14Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811		Wat Luang - November 2007	97
4.14Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811	.13	Monks and novices protesting against the Liaoning Company's
Government action104.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811		management of Wat Luang - December 2009	99
4.15Tourists visiting Wat Luang105.1A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)115.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811	.14	Monks sitting in the ordination hall of Wat Luang demanding
 5.1 A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham) 5.2 Text written in the 'new Dai script' 5.3 The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie 5.4 The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 		Government action	101
5.2Text written in the 'new Dai script'115.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811	.15	Tourists visiting Wat Luang	103
5.3The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie115.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811	.1	A Lue manuscript written in the 'old Tai script' (to tham)	111
5.4The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 200811	.2	Text written in the 'new Dai script'	112
their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008 11	.3	The Buddhist Institute at Wat Pajie	118
ont = nv c niano Mai Liniva	.4	The first batch of Wat Pajie students with recognized diplomas during
5.5 The school of Wet Lyong during its services the 2007 10		their graduation ceremony at the Temple - January 2008	119
5.5 The school at wat Luang during its construction - August 2007 12	.5	The school at Wat Luang during its construction - August 2007	121
5.6 A class at the Buddhist Institute in Wat Luang	.6	A class at the Buddhist Institute in Wat Luang	122

ABBREVIATIONS AND GLOSSARY

	ABBREVIATIONS AND GLOSSARY
BERA	Xishuangbanna Bureau of Ethnic and Religious Affairs
ССР	Chinese Communist Party
LPDR	Lao People´s Democratic Republic
PRC	People's Republic of China
XBA	Xishuangbanna Buddhist Association
XDAP	Xishuangbanna Dai Autonomous Prefecture
YBA	Yunnan Province Buddhist Association

Tai Lue

	Bosut	A building within a Lue Wat
, i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i	Chai Pha Chao	The 'Heart of the Buddha'
	Chai That	The 'Heart of the Stupa'
	Chao	'Lord': The ruling class of landowners in pre-1953 Sipsong Panna
	Fai	Sect
	Kha Yom	Boys preparing to be ordained as novices
	Khanan	A title used to address men who have been monks in the past
	Khuba	A high-ranking title for a monk who has spent around twenty years in the Sangha
	Pha	Novice
	Sangha	The community of Buddhist monks and novices
A 21 A 1	Tan	Buddhist festivals
CIUCII	Tu	Fully-ordained monk
Conve	Vihaan	Ordination hall - part of a Buddhist temple compound
Copyri	Wat	Buddhist temple
AÍÍ

xvi

Chinese

Minzu

Nationality, National Minority Zhonghua minzu Chinese Nation Wenhua Culture Civilization Wenming

xvii