ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It would not have been possible to write this thesis without the help and support of many people, to only some of whom it is possible to give particular mention here.

This thesis have been possible with the help, support and patience of my advisor, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Apichat Sopadang. I also thank to the members of my graduate committee for their guidance and suggestions, Asst. Prof. Dr. Komgrit Leksakul and Lect. Dr. Korrakot Yaibuathet Tippayawong. Special thanks also go to the experts of my thesis for all their suggestions and the sample organizations of exported frozen food industry for their kindness.

I would like to acknowledge the financial, academic and technical support of SCEM lab and department of industrial engineering, faculty of engineering, Chiang Mai University. The good support and friendship from the SCEM lab members has been invaluable on both an academic and personal level, for which I am extremely grateful.

Last, but by no means least, I would like to thank my family members, especially my Grandmother, my Mother and my Father for supporting and encouraging me to pursue this degree. Without them, I would not have finished the degree.

For any errors or inadequacies that may remain in this work, of course, the responsibility is entirely my own.
