ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The completion of this thesis would not be succeeded without the help of many people whom I would like to thank. I would like to express my sincere thanks to my advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Somporn Chantara, for her efficient supervision, invaluable guidance and constant inspiration throughout this study. Furthermore, thanksgiving and best regards to Assoc. Prof. Dr. Prasak Thavornnyutikarn and Dr. Pitchaya Mungkornasawakul for helpful suggestions.

I gratefully acknowledge the Graduate School of Chiang Mai University, CMU Environmental Science Program and the Environmental Chemistry Research Laboratory (ECRL), Chemistry Department, Faculty of Science, Chiang Mai University for provision of research facilities. Thanks to all my friends in the ECRL for their needed help, useful suggestions and lots of Encouragement. Especially thanks to Ms. Chanakarn Khamkaew for great help to the long time data collection. I also thanks to Ms. Sopittaporn Sillapapiromsuk for guidance and training of using ion chromatograph.

Finally, I would like to give my deeply thanks from all in my heart to my parents who take care of me since I was a child until today. They always support and respect to my decisions and help everything by truly love.
