ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

There are many wonderful persons who kindly assist, encourage, and support me throughout my doctoral studies and the dissertation process. Without their help, the completion of the Ph.D. program and this dissertation would not have been possible.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to Assistant Professor Dr. Pikul Nantachaipan, my major advisor, for insightful guidance and invaluable advice. I am deeply grateful to Assistant Professor Dr. Khanokporn Sucamvang and Associate Professor Dr. Wanchai Moongtui, my co-advisor, for their time, insightful supervision, and needed guidance too.

My deep appreciation is extended to Associate Professor Dr. Linchong Pothiban, Assistant Professor Dr. Seepan Kantawang, and Associate Professor Dr. Yupapin Sirapo-ngam , my examining committee member, for their intellectual suggestions and recommendations to strengthen the dissertation.

I owe Assistant Professor Dr. Ratana Saipanish for permission to use her instruments in this study.

I would like to acknowledge and thank all the caregivers of persons with spinal cord injury who participate in this research. I will never forget their willingness to share their information and warm welcome they generously gave me. I am thankful for the cooperation and assistance along the data collection process from my research assistants and other health care providers at five research sites, Maharaj Nakorn

Chiang Mai Hospital, Nakornping Hospital, Lampang Hospital, Srinagarind Hospital and Khon Kaen Hospital.

My appreciation is extended to my doctoral classmate and friends for sharing knowledge, experience, friendship, and assistance, and for making my study not only academically but also personally rewarding.

Last but not least, my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation is extended to my family- my father (Assistant Professor Satuan Pinnoi) and my mother (Sajee Pinnoi) who always love, encourage, and support me. My special gratitude also goes to my beloved husband (Sqn. Ldr. Payong Rattanasuk), the persons who always takes care of me and wishes me success in my study.
