ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I would like to express my deep gratefulness to my advisor, Assoc. Prof. Pimporn Leelapornpisid who has provided benignant encouragements, guidances and assistances all along this thesis. I would like to express my profound gratitude to my co-advisor, Assist. Prof. Dr. Ampai Phrutivorapongkul for her helpful suggestions and comments. I would like to thank Assoc. Prof. Suwanna Vejabhikul for being the examining committee of my thesis defense.

The grateful acknowledgements are also extended to the Thailand Research Fund – Master Research Grants (TRF-MAG) for financial support. Special thanks to Prof. Usanee Vinitketkumnuen, the leader of Prima Herb Thailand Co., Ltd., for supporting the longan seed extract all along this thesis and to the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Faculty of Pharmacy, Chiang Mai University for distributing opportunity to study in the program of Master Degree of Pharmaceutical Sciences.

My sincere thanks to Mr. Prem Thongchai at Faculty of Agro-Industry, Chiang Mai University for good suggestion about testing method.

Thank you to all my friends for the support and inspiration given to me to accomplish these challenging years of study.

Eventually, I sincerely thank to my parents, my older sister for their good intentions throughout this study.
