ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This work has been done with the help of many people. I wish to thank all of them. Firstly, I would like to express my appreciation to my thesis advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Duangmanee Wongratanaphisan. Without her help and encouragement, this thesis might never be completed. She gives me a lot of advice in work and my plan in future, and finally, some program and thesis template.

I appreciate to Asst. Prof. Dr. Supab Choopun for providing me for opportunity to conduct my Master degree and for his advice and support.

I would like to thank Dr. Surachet Phadungdhitidhada and Dr. Atcharawan Gardchareon for comments and suggestion to improve my thesis work.

I am also grateful the other members of Applied Physics Research Laboratory (APRL) including Mr. Sornchai Tanachai and Mr. Meechai Thepnurat for technical support in laboratory. I would like to thank Ms. Nongkran Punyarean, an officer in APRL for document supports.

I am thankful to my colleagues, Mr. Anirut Phriksee, Mr. Jessada Keeratibharat, Ms. Napaporn A-thano, Mr. Sakda Koenrobket, who are master degree candidates in Applied Physics, all graduate and undergraduate students at ARRL for giving me the questions and suggestions for improving my work.

Most of all, I would like to give special thank to my family and close friends for their endless support including love, financial support and moral support. Without them, this thesis would never have come to fruition. Finally, I would like to give thanks for the financial support via the Thailand Center of Excellence in Physics (ThEP) and Graduate School, Chiang Mai University, Thailand.
