ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It would not have been possible to complete this doctoral thesis without the assistance and contribution of many people, some of whom I would like to thank in particular.

Firstly, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Asst. Prof. Dr. Kobkiat Saengnil, my advisor for Master and Doctoral theses. I am deeply grateful to him for giving me the guidance in my research throughout the time of my study. He always gives me good advice and useful suggestions with regards to my study and personal matters.

I also would like to express my sincere appreciation to Asst. Prof. Dr. Jamnong Uthaibutra, my co-advisor for giving me advices on the experiments and his help in correcting my manuscripts for publication. I would also like to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to Assoc. Prof. Dr. Danai Boonyakiat, a co-advisor, for support and improvement of my dissertation.

I also wish to give many thanks to Assoc. Prof. Dr. Sirichai Kanlayanarat and Asst. Prof. Dr. Sujitra Ratanamarno, external examination committee members, for their helpful comments and corrections of this dissertation.

My thanks are extended to Dr. Siriphorn Rotarayanont for advice in gene expression techniques used in my experiments.

Special thanks to Dr. Bualuang Faiyue and Asst. Prof. Dr. Morakot Sukchotiratana who corrected and edited my thesis and manuscripts for publication and gave me useful suggestions on the preparation of manuscript for publication.

My study and all research experiences would not be completed without the financial support from the Science Achievement Scholarship of Thailand. I would like to express my gratitude for the scholarship.

I am grateful to the Department of Biology, Faculty of Science, Chiang Mai University for providing the space for laboratory work and to all lecturers from whom I have learned academic knowledge and laboratory techniques.

I am most grateful to all the members of the Plant Physiology and Postharvest Technology laboratory for their various contributions.

I would like to thank all my lovely colleagues and friends in the Department of Biology, Faculty of Science, Chiang Mai University for their great companionship and cheerful encouragement.

Finally, I would like to express my gratulatory appreciation to my father, mother and all members in my family who provided moral support and comfort during my study and research until the completion of this dissertation.
