ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The completion of my M.A. study at the Department of English, Faculty of Humanities, Chiang Mai University, would not have been possible without generous help from Dr.Sudarat Leerabhandh Hatfield, my supervisor, who always encouraged and supported my study. I have always appreciated her advice, guidance and assistance in the completion of this research.

I am truly grateful to all my experienced and revered teachers in the Master's program at the English Division of Chiang Mai University who have untiringly given me insightful lectures and access to their enormous bank of knowledge.

Special recognition and thanks are extended to the following people; My parents who encouraged me to continue my study in Master degree and always supported me; Mr. Mark Mana Varnado who provided frequently great academical advices and explanations in relation with my studies; Miss Passakorn Chatreepinyo, my beloved friend, who always cheered me up and pulled me through during hard times; and Mr. Danupon Pitakchaianan, my wonderful supporter of all time. I would not come this far without their ever-present help.

Finally, a million thanks and lots of gratitude go to my colleagues who were extremely supportive and helped me during the time of my research. Their kindness proved to be extremely helpful for my research.
