This thesis is gratefully dedicated to my parents, who instilled in me the importance of education and the value of perseverance.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis has been made possible through the great support of many people. I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude and appreciation to the following individuals and organization for their invaluable contribution and support.

My deep gratitude to my thesis advisor, Associate Professor Dr. Wilawan Picheansathian, I truly appreciate her patience and tireless supervision through the years of my study. She has a way of guiding me through various stages in conducting research. Her teaching style is very active, flexible and informative. She was the first person to introduce me to systematic review and experience with international publications. I learnt a lot of interesting things under her supervision.

I am greatly indebted to my thesis co-advisors, Associate Professor Dr. Wanchai Lertwatthanawilat and Associate Professor Dr. Akeau Unahalekhaka for their guidance and advice during my years of study. They spent time to read my thesis chapters and providing me with excellent feedback and comments. Above of all, they provided great support and encouragement in many ways.

I am grateful to Associate Professor Dr. Peninnah Oberdorfer MD., Associate Professor Petchsavai Limtragool, Associate Professor Dr. Supreya Tansakul, Dr. Niramom Pimnuyen, and Mrs. Pensri Wongputh for their content validation of the research instruments used in this thesis. I also would like to extend my thankfulness to my research assistant, Miss Rungphetch Homsuwan. She was always willing to help me through the process of data collection.

For my fieldwork, I wish to thank the health authorities, Buddhachinaraj Hospital, Phitsanulok province and staff at the tuberculosis clinic for their approval and coordination in implementing my thesis project. I also would like to extend my special thanks to all the study participants for their kind participation and contribution to my research study.

Most importantly, this thesis would not have been completed without support, encouragement and patience of my family. My warmest gratitude goes to my mum, husband, sons, and sisters. Also, my special thanks go in particular to Dr. Yupares Payaprom, my best friend for her kind help and great support in many ways, especially during the final stage of my PhD study.

Finally, I would like to acknowledge the support from the Thailand Nursing Council for providing financial support for my thesis. I wish to extend acknowledgement to the Faculty of Nursing, Naresuan University for partial financial support for my PhD study and offering me the valuable opportunity to pursue a doctoral program.
