ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my sincere grateful and appreciation to my major thesis advisor, Dr.Puckwipa Suwannaprom, Faculty of Pharmacy, Chiang Mai University, who has advised, encouraged and inspired me to think and to understand from the beginning until the completion of this dissertation. Without her valuable guidance, my goal would never be achieved.

I would also like to express my special appreciation and thanks to my co-advisor, Assoc. Prof. Dr.Peninnah Oberdorfer, Faculty of Medicine, Chiang Mai University for her friendly guidance, encouragement and support.

I am sincerely grateful to my co-advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr.Hathaikan Chowwanapoonpohn and Asst.Prof.Dr.Ratanaporn Awiphan, Faculty of Pharmacy, Chiang Mai University, for encouraged and inspired me to think wisely and understand properly from the beginning until the completion.

I gratefully thank for financial support from the Faculty of Pharmacy, Chiang Mai University. Without their supports, this study would not have been possible.

I would like to thank all healthcare teams, people living with HIV/AIDS who work as volunteers and all participants in every 30 hospital sites: Surin Province (Surin, Prasat, Kabchoeng, Sangkha, Sikhoraphum, Thatoom, Samrongthap, Lamduan, Chomphra, Rattanaburi and Sanom hospitals), Buriram Province (Prakhonchai, Nangrong, Lam Plai Mat, Huairat, Plabplachai, Krasang and Satuek hospitals), Roiet Province (Roiet, Suwannaphum, Selaphum hospitals), Chiang Mai Province (Maharaj Nakorn Chiang Mai, Sanpatong, Hangdong, Sarapee and Doisaket hospitals), Kamphaengphet Province (Kamphaengphet and Phrankratai hospitals), Tak Province (Somdejprajaotaksinmaharaj hospital), Lampang Province (Thoen hospital). I could not have come this far without their contributions and useful information.

I would like to especially thank Dr.Pakarat Sangkla, Mrs.Suparat Penpas, and to all nurses, health personnel, volunteers and others in immunology clinic team at Surin hospital for their support and incented me to strive towards my goal.

My thanks are extended to all pharmacists and all officers at Pharmaceutical Care Unit, Pharmacy Department, Surin hospital, who gave a maximum cooperation and worked hard to give me an opportunity to pursuit this dissertation works.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to my director of Surin hospital, Dr.Thongchai Threewiboonwanit and the next one, Dr.Somkid Suriyalert and my boss, Mr.Sanaeh Sujinnapram, head of Pharmacy Department, Surin hospital for their kind support, regular symphathy and permission to work in this dissertation.

I would also like to thank my friend, Dr.Kannika Panyaphu and her family for their motivation, encouragement and impressive hospitality providing me with a nice accommodation in Chiang Mai. At their place, I felt like my own home. In this occasion, I extend my great thank to Miss Worawan Wongjak for her friendly and coordination with Faculty of Medicine, Chiang Mai University.

I express my warm thanks to my beloved sister, Ms.Ratsamee Riabroi, and Mr.Thomus, Miss Elizabeth and an Elder from the Christ Church in Surin for their contribution to my English writing.

Furthermore I would also like to thank all my parents, both my foster ones, Mr.Plueang Riabroi and Mrs. Sukhuan Riabroi and my biological ones, Mr.Yord Riabroi and Mrs.Sundhara Riabroi for their permanent love and support. My father, Mr.Plueang often asked me about progression of my dissertation, unfortunately he could not wait until its completion. He passed away after I had finished my dissertation proposal. I promised him that I will be engrossed in my goal. Although both of my fathers are not living anymore, they will always be cherished in my heart. I would like to thank my mother-in-law, Mrs.Tim Sittichotiwong and her family for having supported me throughout my long journey.

Finally, I would like to thank my husband, Mr.Egavit Sittichotiwong, who have supported me throughout entire process, both by keeping me constantly and encourage to my work. I will be grateful forever for your love. As well as their father, my two sons; Mr. Poowit Sittichotiwong and Mr.Parit Sittichotiwong are also inclusive in my extra thanks. Their strong moral support has taken part in this academic success.
