ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I would like to say a heartfelt thanks Asst. Prof. Dr. Thapin Phatcharanuruk, my main supervisor, and Asst. Prof. Dr. Kwanchewan Buadaeng, my co-supervisor for being kind and patient from the beginning to the end of the program. Both of their expertise, wisdom and experience in the field of Sciences and Anthropology allowed me to understand and progress my work. I would also like to extend my appreciation to my thesis external examiner, Dr. Romyen Kosaiyakanont for sharing her precious time, providing valuable suggestions and feedback to my work. My sincerely thanks goes to the Regional Centre for Sustainable Development (RCSD) program staff members, especially Muttika Thungsuphuti and Rungthiwa Hacker who help me in all administrative matters throughout my study.

Furthermore, my deepest thanks to the Factory Administration Manager, all Supervisors and the Rakhine migrant factory workers in Hlaing Tharyar township for allowing me to interview them. It is appreciated their sharing their limited time and answering my questions patiently. I would like to express my gratitude to the Rakhine Thahaya Association, the Arakan Youth Sweeping Association and the Rakhine National Social Organization's team members for give me chance to interview their Executive Committee members and providing me with valuable data. Without their kind assistance it may not have been possible to complete my thesis field study.

Moreover, I would like to express my gratitude to the Heinrich Boell Stiftung Foundation (HBS) family members for their generous financial support and kindness to me during my study at Chiang Mai University. Without their generous support, my dream to make further study abroad would not have been possible. Additionally, I would like to say thank you to all my class mates for their sharing, caring and exchanging of information.

Last but not least, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my family members and my beloved ones for their understanding and enduring support. Neither this study nor thesis would have come out without their enduring support and understanding.
