ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have an honour to reflect my sincere appreciation to many people who have supported me, guided me and helped me on everything within the long journey of thesis period.

I would like first to express my sincere thankfulness to Dr. Pisit Leeahtam (Dean of Faculty of Economics, Chiang Mai University), Dr. Thida Kyi (Dean of Faculty of Economics, Yangon University of Economics), and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Kanchana Chokethaworn for their continuous support in things like continuous assistance and delivering excellent lectures to us for our better education; and Faculty of Economics (Chiang Mai University), together with the Bangkok Bank Public Company Limited for providing financial aid for this Master of Economics (International Program) at Yangon University of Economics.

In addition, I would express my deepest gratitude to my advisor and mentor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Rossarin Osathanukul; and my co-advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Chaiwat Nimanussornkul for their guidance. They really gave suggestions, opinions and advices to choose the right direction and continuous encouragement at critical needed times.

Furthermore, I want to thank wholeheartedly to all friends especially Ms. Ei Phyu Aung, seniors and staff at the Faculty of Economics for their technical assistance, guidance, continuous contributions, sharing their knowledge and finding ways to deliberate our problems during the whole Master Program Period.

Last but not least, a special heartfelt thank goes out to my parents U Kyaw Myint and Daw Hla Hla May; my aunt Daw San San Myint; and my siblings for always believing in me and their counsel, care, support, love and understanding the whole time.

Phyu Phyu Kyaw Myint
