ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This dissertation was achieved by great kindness from Assoc. Prof. Dr Kiatsuda Srisuk who was my main advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Natad Assapaporn and Lect. Dr. Sunee Nguenyuang as my co-advisor in that they both kindly offer me knowledge, concept and valuable suggestion. They also kindly examined and correct all error with great attention until the dissertation was complete. My thanks and appreciation were given to all of them

I would also like to thank Asst. Prof. Dr. Banyat Yongyuan and Acting Sub Lt. Assoc. Skol Kaewsiri, my examination committee members, for their kind help in giving advice and recommendation in order for me to complete my dissertation. I would like to express my thankfulness to all connoisseurs in giving data for synthesizing indicators, offering guidelines in developing the instruction competencies' teachers in multi-ethnic classroom, and giving advice in developing research tools. Thank you all sample groups for their time in giving key information for this dissertation, students and teachers of Ban Mae-O Nai School, Chiang Mai Primary Educational Service Area Office 3 for their assistance in allowing the researcher to try out a model of developing instructional competencies of teachers in multi-ethnic classrooms until the dissertation was perfectly completed.

I was grateful to all instructors in Department of Education Research and Development, Faculty of Education, Chiang Mai University, for their big part in giving me a lot of knowledge and ability. My thankfulness was also given to Dr. Kanjana Tongboonnak for her encouragement and helping. I am grateful to all my friends for their participation in helping, exchanging knowledge and encouraging me in conducting this dissertation. I also would like to give my special thanks to Sarankorn Chanklum for her constant consultation and encouragement toward my studies.

I was grateful to the National Research Council of Thailand in granting me the research fund in 2015 enabling the dissertation to be completed successfully.

Finally, I had to sincerely thankfulness my mother, Sritong Suwanma, and all of my relative whose concerns and encouragement led me in conducting this research
