ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to take this opportunity to express my heartfelt appreciation to individuals and organizations for their help and support during my study at Chiang Mai University. This support allowed my studies to progress smoothly.

Firstly, I would like to express my most sincere gratitude and high regard to my major advisor, Professor Dr. Wipada Kunaviktikul, Dean of the Faculty of Nursing, for her scholarly guidance, extraordinary help and encouragement throughout my study. I would also like to express my deep appreciation to my co-advisor Assistant Professor Dr. Bunpitcha Chitpakdee for her conscientious comments, sincere help and guidance. Without their consistent and illuminating instruction, I could not have been able to complete my thesis.

Secondly, I would like to express my appreciation to my examination committee chairperson and members: Assistant Professor Dr. Pikul Phornphibul, Professor Dr. Wipada Kunaviktikul, Assistant Professor Dr. Bunpitcha Chitpakdee, Assistant Professor Dr. Orn-Anong Wichaikhum and Associate Professor Dr. Ratanawadee Chontawan, for their insightful recommendations, incredible assistance and encouragement. Sincere thanks also to one of proposal examination committee members Assistant Professor Dr. Sumalee Lirtmunlikaporn.

I would also like to acknowledge Professor Dr. Amabile T. Barros and Professor Dr. John Meyer, for their expertise and academic support as well as allowing me to use their research instruments. Also, I am very thankful to Chen Yingchuan for her permission to use the research instrument that she translated into Chinese. I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to Ms. Cao Yulin, Ms. Dai Yi and Mr. Bill Baker, for their enthusiastic help for translation and back-translation of the instruments, and confirming the equivalent of the translated English version and the original English version. I also would like to thank my friend Manassawee Srimoragot, who helped me to translate English version of abstract into Thai.

Furthermore, I would like to appreciate the directors of Nursing Departments, Mrs. Chen Qixian who working in the Affiliated Hospitals of Dali University and Mrs. Lin Huixian who working in the Third People's Hospital of Yunnan Province, for their permission to collect data and mobilize the head nurses to kindly assist in these two hospitals. Special thanks to the coordinators who helped me in data collection process and all subjects for their willing to participate in this study.

Additionally, many thanks needs to be given to Professor Tang Pingfen, for her effort for us and providing convenient access to this education program and constant encouragement during duration of study. I am deeply grateful to the Faculty of Nursing, Chiang Mai University, for providing such a valuable opportunity for overseas higher education for me. Sincere thanks go to all teachers and staff members at Faculty of Nursing, Chiang Mai University, for their enthusiastic help throughout these two years. Also, much thanks to the Graduate School, Chiang Mai University, for a grant in partial support of this study. Besides, I would like to thank my classmates who gave me help and encouragement during my time here.

My genuine and deep gratitude is given to the leaders of the Affiliated Hospital of Dali University, which is my workplace, for their attention to the development of nursing profession in my hospital, and providing me the precious opportunity and financial support to study at Chiang Mai University. Special appreciation is also extended to the director of the Nursing Department of my hospital, Mrs. Chen Qixian, for her comprehensive support, encouragement and caring.

Lastly, I would like to express my deepest appreciation to my beloved family, who gave me unlimited love, unconditional support and constantly inspired me to overcome obstacles so that I can finish all my work during these past two years.
