ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to my major advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Kulwadee Abhicharttibutra for her extraordinary guidance, supports and insightful encouragement. I would like to express my deeply appreciation to my co-advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Petsunee Thungjaroenkul for her intelligent suggestions and scholarly guidance. Without their supports, the completion of my thesis would never have been possible.

I would like to express my appreciation to examination committee members: Assoc. Prof. Dr. Kannika Kantaruksa, Asst. Prof. Dr. Thitinut Akkadechanunt, and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Ratanawadee Chontawan for their valuable suggestion. I would also express my appreciation to all my lecturers in faculty of nursing, Chiang Mai University for their insight and contribution towards the achievement of my study goals. In addition, my thanks would go to my back translators: Yi Dai (Nursing department associate director of the First People's Hospital of Yunnan Province) and Hongning Li (The Affiliated Hospital of Dali University). Last, special thanks would go to Prof. Dr. Wilmar Schaufeli for her permission to use Chinese version Utrecht Work Engagement Scale, and Prof. Dr. Sharon Parker for her permission to use, interpret and translate Proactive Work Behavior Scale.

I extent my thanks to the First Affiliated Hospital of Kunming Medical University and the nursing department director, Guixian Liang for her permission to do pilot study and collect data in her hospital. Thanks also would go to the Affiliated Hospital of Dali University and nursing department director, Qixian Chen; the First People's Hospital of Yunnan Province and nursing department director, Lifen Jin; and the Second People's Hospital of Yunnan Province and nursing department director, Meihua Che for their permissions to collect data in their hospitals. Moreover, thanks are owed to my participants for their willingness to participate in this study. Without them, this study would not have been accomplished.

I offer my special thanks to the Affiliated Hospital of Dali University and Dean, Wu Xinhua for the financial support and granting me a study leave. I wish to thank all of my classmates and friends for their informational and emotional support during my study.

Finally, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my parents, siblings, beloved husband and daughter for their continuing encouragement, unconditional love, and unending supports along the way of my educational journey in Chiang Mai University.
