ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor Dr. Christopher Andrew Fisher of the Department of Philosophy and Religion, Chiang Mai University, for the continuous support in everything with his kind, motivation, and immense knowledge. The door to his office is always open for me whenever I ran into a trouble spot or had a question about my research or writing.

Besides my advisor, I would also like to thank my co-advisor Dr. Phisit Kotsupho and other research committees for their insightful comments and encouragement. I have to thank to all my friends for the hard question which incited me to widen my research from various perspectives. Without their passionate participation and input, this research could not have been successfully conducted.

My sincere thanks also goes to my parents for supporting me spiritually throughout writing this research and my life in general. I am also grateful to my other family members who have supported me along the way.

I would like to express my very profound gratitude to my life partner for providing me with unfailing support and continuous encouragement.

Last but not least, I must thank existing love on this planet. Without love, this research will never happen. This accomplishment would not have been possible without them. Thank you.
