

Series on Chinese Economics Research – Vol. 21

China's Economic Development Strategies

Transformation and Innovation

LIU Rui

Contents

| | |
|---|-----------|
| About the Author | xiii |
| Chapter 1 The Paradigms and Schools of Economic Development Strategy | 1 |
| 1.1 Understanding National Development Strategy | 2 |
| 1.2 Classification of National Development Strategies | 3 |
| 1.2.1 The Paradigm of Equilibrium Development Strategy | 3 |
| 1.2.2 The Paradigms of Disequilibrium Development Strategy | 7 |
| 1.3 Options of Strategic Paradigms in Different Development Stages | 10 |
| 1.3.1 Initial Stage: Disequilibria Dominance | 11 |
| 1.3.2 Takeoff Stage: Transition from Disequilibrium to Equilibrium | 12 |
| 1.3.3 Advanced Stage: Achieving Sustainability on the Basis of Equilibrium | 15 |
| 1.4 The Mix of China's Development Strategy Paradigms | 16 |
| References | 19 |
| Notes | 20 |
| Chapter 2 Development Outlook and Development Strategy from A Global Perspective | 23 |
| 2.1 Development Theory Versus Conventional Development Strategy | 23 |
| 2.1.1 The Schools of the Theory of Development and Their Major Views | 24 |
| 2.1.2 Conventional Development Strategy and Practice | 28 |

| | | |
|-------|---|----|
| 2.2 | The Transformation of Development Theory and Alternative Development Strategy | 31 |
| 2.2.1 | Evolution of the Development Concept: Socioeconomic-Coordinated Development | 31 |
| 2.2.2 | Revival of Neoclassical Development Theory | 33 |
| 2.2.3 | Alternative Development Strategy | 35 |
| 2.3 | The New Trend of Development Theory and Innovation on Development Strategy | 39 |
| 2.3.1 | New Studies of Development | 39 |
| 2.3.2 | A Giant Leap of the Concept of Development: People-centered Sustainable Development | 41 |
| 2.3.3 | Latest Developments of Development Concept | 46 |
| | References | 50 |
| | Notes | 51 |

| | | |
|------------------|--|-----------|
| Chapter 3 | China's National Development Concept and Economic Development Strategy | 53 |
| 3.1 | Development Concepts Before the Reform and Opening Up | 55 |
| 3.1.1 | The Thought of Equilibrium in the Development Concept in Early New China (1949–1953) | 55 |
| 3.1.2 | Growth-Centered Development Concept (1953–1965, 1976–1978) | 58 |
| 3.1.3 | War-Preparing Concept in Peace Time (1965–1976) | 62 |
| 3.1.4 | Legacy of the Development Concept Before Reform and Opening Up | 64 |
| 3.2 | The Evolution of Development Concepts Since Opening Up and Reform | 67 |
| 3.2.1 | The Growth-Centered Development Concept (1978–1990) | 68 |
| 3.2.2 | Conscious Self-Reflection and Exploration of Development Concept | 69 |
| 3.2.3 | The Formation of the Scientific Outlook on Development (Since Early 21st Century) | 71 |
| 3.3 | A Historical Review of China National Development Strategies | 72 |
| 3.3.1 | Development Strategies (1949–1978) | 72 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 3.3.2 Disequilibrium Overtaking Strategy Focusing on Economic Construction (1978–1990) | 75 |
| 3.3.3 Systematic Strategy Pursuing Comprehensiveness and Coordination (1990s) | 79 |
| 3.3.4 The National Strategy Guided by the Scientific Outlook on Development (Since 2000) | 84 |
| References | 88 |
| Notes | 89 |
| Chapter 4 The National Economic Development Strategy in Xi's Era | 91 |
| 4.1 Deng's Three-Step Strategy and Its Prescription on the 100-Year Development Path | 92 |
| 4.2 The Components of President Xi's Economic Development Strategy | 94 |
| 4.3 A Situational Analysis of Xi's Economic Strategy: A New Normal | 100 |
| References | 105 |
| Notes | 106 |
| Chapter 5 A Historical Review of National Planning Management | 107 |
| 5.1 The First Phase: From Mandatory Plans to Guiding Plans | 107 |
| 5.1.1 Unity of Planning and Commodity | 108 |
| 5.1.2 Combination Forms of Planning and Market | 109 |
| 5.2 The Second Phase: From Plan Management to Macro Control | 113 |
| 5.2.1 Planning Economy and Market Economy | 114 |
| 5.2.2 The Necessity of Plan Management in Socialist Market Economy | 114 |
| 5.2.3 Views on the Relationships between Market and Plan | 115 |
| 5.2.4 Macro Control | 116 |
| 5.3 Summary: Inspiration from the Historical Transformation of National Development Planning | 119 |
| References | 124 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| Chapter 6 Experiences and Lessons in Formulating National Development Plan | 127 |
| 6.1 Procedures of Formulating a National Development Plan | 127 |
| 6.1.1 Preliminary Research | 127 |
| 6.1.2 Drafting | 129 |
| 6.1.3 Linkage and Verification | 130 |
| 6.1.4 Examination and Ratification | 131 |
| 6.1.5 Promulgation | 132 |
| 6.1.6 Implementation | 132 |
| 6.1.7 Evaluation and Revision | 133 |
| 6.2 Choice of Indicators in National Development Planning | 134 |
| 6.2.1 The Impact of Macro-Control Objectives on Planning Indicators | 134 |
| 6.2.2 Controversies About Planning Indicators | 143 |
| 6.3 Social Participation in National Development Plan | 149 |
| 6.3.1 The Implications of Improving Public Participation | 149 |
| 6.3.2 Social Participation in Planning in Japan, France, and South Korea | 151 |
| 6.3.3 Establishing a Sound Social Participation System | 154 |
| 6.4 Implementation and Monitoring of Planning | 157 |
| 6.4.1 Implementation and Management | 158 |
| 6.4.2 Monitoring System | 161 |
| 6.4.3 Content Design of Planning Monitoring | 163 |
| 6.4.4 Methods of Planning Monitoring | 164 |
| 6.5 Evaluation and Revision of Planning | 165 |
| 6.5.1 Ex-ante , Interim, and Ex-post Evaluations | 165 |
| 6.5.2 Content Design of Planning Evaluation | 166 |
| 6.5.3 Safeguards for Planning Evaluation | 168 |
| 6.5.4 Revision of Planning | 170 |
| References | 171 |
| Note | 172 |
| Chapter 7 Improving Regional Planning | 173 |
| 7.1 Definition of REP | 173 |
| 7.2 The Role of REP | 175 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| 7.3 The Tasks and Contents of an REP | 176 |
| 7.3.1 Development Orientation | 176 |
| 7.3.2 Defining Goals and Objectives | 177 |
| 7.3.3 Identifying the Key Sector, Area, and Projects for REP | 177 |
| 7.3.4 Designing the Layout of the Industrial Area | 178 |
| 7.4 REP Versus Other Types of Planning | 178 |
| 7.4.1 REP Versus National and Social Development Planning | 178 |
| 7.4.2 REP Versus Urban Planning | 179 |
| 7.4.3 REP Versus National Land Use Planning | 180 |
| 7.4.4 REP Versus Major Function-Oriented Zone Planning | 181 |
| 7.5 The Prospect for Regional Planning | 181 |
| 7.5.1 Features of Future Regional Planning | 182 |
| 7.5.2 Updating Regional Planning Concepts and Theories | 183 |
| 7.5.3 Innovations on Regional Planning Contents | 186 |
| 7.5.4 Improvement of Regional Planning Auxiliary Technologies | 188 |
| 7.6 Coordination of Interests in Regional Planning | 188 |
| 7.6.1 Major Barriers in Coordinating Interests | 189 |
| 7.6.2 Causes of the Conflict | 190 |
| 7.6.3 Possible Solutions | 193 |
| 7.7 A Case Study: The Yangtze River Delta Integration Plan and the Interests Coordination Practice | 195 |
| 7.7.1 Existing Planning Interest Coordination Mechanism | 195 |
| 7.7.2 Interest Conflicts in the Yangtze River Delta | 197 |
| 7.7.3 Dilemmas in Coordinating Interests | 201 |
| References | 203 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| Chapter 8 Development Planning Reform at the County Level | 205 |
| 8.1 Problems in Development and Urban Planning | 205 |
| 8.1.1 Low Degree of Coordination | 206 |
| 8.1.2 Overlap and Contradiction in Content Design | 206 |
| 8.2 The Necessity and Feasibility of Reforming City-County Planning System | 207 |
| 8.2.1 The Necessity of Planning System Reform | 207 |
| 8.2.2 Feasibility of Planning System Reform | 209 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| 8.3 Reforming the Planning System at the City-County Level | 210 |
| 8.3.1 Overall Objectives | 210 |
| 8.3.2 Specific Conception | 210 |
| 8.3.3 Institutional Reform | 212 |
| 8.3.4 Legal Support | 213 |

Chapter 9 The Planning of the Major Function-Oriented Zones: Initiation and Evolution 215

| | |
|--|-----|
| 9.1 The MFOZs and the MFOZ Planning | 215 |
| 9.1.1 Initiation of the MFOZs and Its Implications | 215 |
| 9.1.2 Positioning and Orientation of the MFOZs | 217 |
| 9.1.3 The Significance of the MFOZ Planning | 220 |
| 9.2 Compilation of the MFOZ Planning | 223 |
| 9.2.1 Guiding Line | 223 |
| 9.2.2 Main Tasks of the Compilation of the MFOZ Planning | 227 |
| 9.2.3 Main Problems in the Compilation of the MFOZ Planning | 230 |
| 9.3 Policy Guarantee of the MFOZ Planning | 233 |
| 9.3.1 Guaranteeing Measures for the MFOZ Planning | 233 |
| 9.3.2 Performance Assessment for the Implementation of the MFOZ Planning | 237 |
| 9.4 Some Suggestions on MFOZ Planning | 240 |
| 9.4.1 Policy Priorities: Prohibited and Key Development Zones | 240 |
| 9.4.2 Dynamically Readjusting MFOZ Planning | 240 |
| 9.4.3 Guiding Optimized and Stimulating Prohibited Development Zones | 241 |
| 9.4.4 Setting an Overseeing Institution for the MFOZ Planning | 242 |
| 9.4.5 Coordinating the MFOZ Planning and the Current Regional Policies | 242 |
| 9.5 A Case Study: Experiences of Compiling MFOZ Planning in Henan Province | 244 |
| 9.5.1 Work Arrangements | 244 |
| 9.5.2 Technology Roadmap | 247 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 9.5.3 Indicator Design | 248 |
| 9.5.4 Problems to Be Settled | 249 |
| Chapter 10 Institutionalization of National Development Planning | 257 |
| 10.1 Necessity of Institutionalizing National Development Planning | 257 |
| 10.1.1 Implications of Institutionalization of Planning | 257 |
| 10.1.2 Planning and Law of Planning | 258 |
| 10.1.3 Necessity of Legislating Planning | 259 |
| 10.2 A Historical Survey of China's Legislation of Planning | 261 |
| 10.3 Problems and Difficulties in Planning Legislation | 263 |
| 10.3.1 Problems in Legislating Planning | 263 |
| 10.3.2 Difficulties and Principles | 265 |
| 10.4 Legislation Practice of Planning in Some Market Economies | 266 |
| 10.4.1 Planning Legislation in France | 266 |
| 10.4.2 Planning Legislation in Japan | 271 |
| 10.4.3 Planning Legislation in South Korea | 273 |
| 10.5 Planning Institutionalization in China | 275 |
| 10.5.1 Models of Planning Institutionalization | 275 |
| 10.5.2 Main Contents of Planning Institutionalization | 276 |
| 10.5.3 Accountability for Violation and Nonperformance in Planning | 280 |
| References | 282 |
| Chapter 11 Improvement and Innovation of National Development Planning System | 283 |
| 11.1 Planning System Under Socialist Market Economy | 283 |
| 11.2 The Conception of Planning Reform | 286 |
| 11.2.1 Planning System | 286 |
| 11.2.2 Nature, Function and Relationship of Each Type of Planning | 289 |
| 11.3 Innovations of National Development Planning | 291 |
| 11.3.1 Progress in Planning Reform | 291 |
| 11.3.2 Major Problems in the Design of Planning Content | 294 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| 11.3.3 Orientation of Planning Content Reform and Innovation | 297 |
| 11.4 Linkage and Integration of Different Types of Planning | 303 |
| 11.4.1 The Actualization of Planning Linkage | 303 |
| 11.4.2 Specific Measures for Planning Linkage | 306 |
| 11.4.3 Linkage of Regional Planning with Overall Planning and Specialized Planning | 308 |
| 11.4.4 Linkage between Long, Medium and Short-Term Plans | 309 |
| 11.5 Linkage between Plans Made by Different Departments and Synergic Research | 311 |
| 11.5.1 Functional Positioning of Three Major Types of Planning | 311 |
| 11.5.2 Problems Arising from the Separation of Three Major Types of Planning | 315 |
| 11.5.3 The Way Out for the Linkage between Three Major Types of Planning | 320 |
| Note | 325 |
| Index | 327 |