
Framing Dropouts

Notes on the Politics of an Urban Public High School

Michelle Fine

Contents

Tables	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1

I. UNPACKING THE HISTORIC IRONY

1. On Equal Educational Opportunities and Unequal Educational Outcomes	13
--	----

II. CRITICAL ETHNOGRAPHIC SLICES OF COMPREHENSIVE HIGH: VOICES, BODIES, AND CRITIQUE

2. Silencing and Nurturing Student Voices	31
3. Discharging the Student Bodies	63
4. Where Are You Going?	83
5. On Critical Consciousness	103
6. Educators' Experiences: On Being Heard (and More Often, Not)	139
7. Burning at Both Ends: Low-Income Mothers, Their Public Schools, and Their Adolescents	161

III. REFRAMING DROPOUTS: CRITICAL THEORY AND ACTIVIST POLITICS

8. Public Schools as a Public Sphere	179
9. Reclaiming the Public Sphere	205
Appendix The Cohort Study: Tracking the Bodies	231
Notes	255
Bibliography	269
Index	293