

MICHELLE FINE

Just
Research
in Contentious Times

Widening
the Methodological Imagination

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xv
1. Loss and Desire: Bearing Witness in White, Working-Class, Suburban New Jersey	1
Family His/Her-stories	2
Tracing the Biography of Our Research Questions	5
Commitments of Critical Research	6
Circling Back	9
2. Exiles Within: Wild Tongues and Critical Bifocals at the Radical Margins	11
Critical Bifocality: Situating Lives in Historical and Structural Analysis	12
Exiled from School: Re-Framing Dropouts	14
Exiled from Home: When Muslim American Youth Learned They Didn't "Belong"	19
Critical Bifocality as Theory-Method	25
3. Civics Lessons: The Color and Class of Educational Betrayal and Desire	29
with April Burns, María Elena Torre, and Yasser A. Payne
Learning from Those Who Endure: The Dynamics of the Focus Groups	32
Cumulative Inequity: Schooling Toward Alienation	32
Hearing Problems: A Violation of Procedural Justice	43
College Going, Perhaps	44
Civics Lessons	45

4. “Wicked Problems,” “Flying Monkeys,” and Prec(ar)ious Lives: A Matter of Time?	49
with Andrew Cory Greene and Sonia Sanchez
Curating Testimony	50
The Cumulative Weight of Growing Up in Precarity	64
Building Schools for Racial, Educational, and Labor Justice	67
5. Just Methods: Historic and Contemporary Laboratories of Democratic Knowledge Production	71
Historic Veins of Participatory Research	72
The Public Science Project	77
Echoes of Brown :
Documenting the Unfulfilled Promise of Educational Integration	82
Do You Believe in Geneva? Critical Participatory Action Research with the Global Rights Campaign	88
Critical Participatory Action Research: Kneading, Translating, and Braiding Across and Within Borderlands	94
6. “Speaking Words of Wisdom”: Metabolizing Oppression into Intersectional Activism, Radical Wit, and Care Work	97
with María Elena Torre, David Frost, and Allison Cabana
Coloniality of Being	98
Queer Youth Under Siege: What’s Your Issue?	99
The Obligations of Critical Community Inquiry	109
“Willful Subjects”	111
Conclusion:
Critical Participatory Action Research and Democracies:
Lighting the Slow Fuse of the Research Imagination	113
To Whom Are We Accountable?
Public Science and Neoliberal Blues	114
Participatory Inquiry: Building Fragile Communities of Critical Knowledge and Action	116
“Public” at a Crossroads: Breaking Silences, Revealing Resistance, and Provoking Possibilities	121
References	124
Index	135
About the Author	144