

The
ACADEMIC TEACHING
LIBRARIAN'S
HANDBOOK

Claire McGuinness

The bottom half of the cover features a horizontal gradient of colors from light blue to dark blue. A small, light grey rectangular box is positioned on the left side, overlapping the blue gradient. The bottom edge of the cover has a thin, greenish-grey brushstroke-like border.

สำนักหอสมุด มหาวิทยาลัยเชียงใหม่

๖๖
๑,๐๖๖.-

๖ 1658๑6๐๐
๑ 125๓4๐๐๐
1 ๒๒565796

The Academic Teaching Librarian's Handbook

Claire McGuinness

๒๕๖๓

Contents

Figures and tables	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	xiii
PART 1 CONSTRUCTING THE ACADEMIC TEACHING LIBRARIAN	1
1 Shaping the academic teaching librarian	3
1.1 Introduction: critical issues for academic teaching librarians	3
1.2 Conceptions of literacy: terminology and the academic teaching librarian	3
1.3 New frameworks: information literacy in context	12
1.4 Critical information literacy	20
1.5 Social media and filter bubbles: the rise of 'fake news'	27
1.6 Learning analytics	34
1.7 E-research and datafied scholarship	44
2 Defining the academic teaching librarian	51
2.1 Introduction: who is the academic teaching librarian?	51
2.2 Professional identity and 'teacher identity'	54
2.3 Roles and responsibilities of academic teaching librarians	62
2.4 The information-literate self	71
2.5 Reflective practice for academic teaching librarians	76
2.6 Developing a personal teaching philosophy	85
3 Becoming an academic teaching librarian	97
3.1 Introduction: choosing the academic teaching librarian pathway	97
3.2 Looking inwards: self-analysis and the teaching role	102
3.3 Does a 'teaching personality' exist?	104
3.4 Mapping your teaching profile	106
3.5 Planning and developing your teaching role	115
3.6 Keeping current with teaching trends	118
3.7 Documenting and showcasing your work: teaching portfolios for librarians	121

PART 2 EXCELLING AS AN ACADEMIC TEACHING LIBRARIAN	129
4 Technology and the academic teaching librarian	131
4.1 Introduction: the digital environment for academic teaching librarians	131
4.2 Teaching, learning and technology: key concepts	133
4.3 The digital imperative in higher education	137
4.4 Digital education in higher education (HE): state of the art	138
4.5 Digital learning and the academic teaching librarian	143
4.6 Digital learning knowledge domains: a framework for academic teaching librarians	145
4.7 Levels of skill and expertise for digital learning	150
4.8 Additional digital learning competence frameworks	155
4.9 A reflective approach to planning and designing digital learning	161
4.10 A final word on digital learning	169
5 Leading and co-ordinating for the academic teaching librarian	173
5.1 Introduction: leadership, management and culture	173
5.2 Leadership and the academic teaching librarian	174
5.3 Co-ordinating your library's information literacy programme	183
5.4 Creating an information literacy culture in your institution	188
5.5 Engaging with the wider community of teaching librarians	200
6 Advocacy and the academic teaching librarian	215
6.1 Introduction: reflecting on advocacy	215
6.2 Advocacy and libraries	216
6.3 Advocacy and academic teaching librarians	221
6.4 Information literacy: communicating value	223
6.5 Ways of engaging in advocacy	226
6.6 Writing for academic publications: a reflective view	231
References	243
Index	269