

Playing Games IN THE School Library

Developing Game-Based Lessons and Using Gamification Concepts

Sarah Pavey

สำนักหอสมุด มหาวิทยาลัยเชียงใหม่

460
9445-

b 1658062
o 1253403
j 22565802

Playing Games in the School Library

Developing Game-Based Lessons and Using Gamification Concepts

Sarah Pavey

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Abbreviations	xi
Foreword by Richard Gerver	xiii
Introduction	xvii
1 How Do We Know Game-Based Learning is an Effective Approach to Teaching and Learning?	1
Defining game-based learning and gamification	1
The psychology of teaching and learning using games	2
Pedagogical considerations in game design	11
2 Developing Emotional and Social Skills Through Game-Based Learning	15
Game-based learning in practice – some considerations	15
The student who is disengaged with learning	17
The student who is afraid of failure	18
The student with English as an additional language	19
The student with dyspraxia	20
The autistic student	21
The competitive student	22
The shy student	23
The student with low self-esteem	25
3 Simple Slide-Based Games	29
Reveal and disappear slide games	30
Slide games using motion pathways	35
Motivation through using slides based on commercial game ideas	37
Constructivist approaches to simple slide-based games	39
Modification and redefinition with slide-based games	40
4 Digital Games	45
Video games	45
Computer coding games	49
Games using a library management system	50
Social media games	51
Games using smart device apps	54
Designing digital games using commercial templates	58

5	Physical Games	63
	How do we know if a physical game will be successful?	64
	Games using everyday and commercial artefacts	65
	Quiz games	70
	Card-based games	72
	Board (table-top) games	76
6	Mixed Media Games	83
	Games using auditory learning	83
	Games mixing physical play with simple computer programs	84
	Games using visual learning	85
	Games using mixed reality	88
7	Active Learning and Live Games	97
	Games involving movement as a motivator for engagement and cognition	98
	Games for practising communication skills and enquiry	99
	Games to promote skills in empathy and perspective	102
	Games requiring problem-solving skills	104
8	Gamification	113
	The psychology of gamification	113
	Pros and cons of reward schemes	114
	Gamification design	116
	Reading schemes based on gamification	118
	Using gamification in enquiry work and for information literacy	122
9	The Impact Game-Based Learning and Gamification Approaches in the Library can have on the School Community	125
	The importance of creating impact within the school community	125
	Game-based learning and gamification for promotion of library resources and services beyond the curriculum	128
	Sharing game ideas with other schools	133
10	Working with Teachers, Senior Leaders and Parents Using Game-Based Learning and Gamification Techniques	137
	Collaborating with teaching staff in a game-based approach to learning	137
	Collaborating with senior leaders in a game-based approach to learning	143
	Collaborating with the wider community and parents in a game-based approach to learning	146
	References	151
	Index	161