

Geopolitics, Supply Chains, and International Relations in East Asia

Edited by Etel Solingen

plb
1809-

๑ 166555/5
'๑ 12567115
) 2264538X

Geopolitics, Supply Chains, and International Relations in East Asia

Edited by
ETEL SOLINGEN
University of California, Irvine

๒๒๖ ๒๒๑ ๒๑

Contents

List of Figures	page ix
List of Tables	xi
List of Contributors	xiii
Preface and Acknowledgements	xv
1 Introduction: Geopolitical Shocks and Global Supply Chains Etel Solingen	I
PART I : GLOBAL SUPPLY CHAINS, GEOPOLITICS, AND TRADE WARS
2 Global Value Chains and the US–China Trade War Yuqing Xing	23
3 The US–China Trade War: Implications for Japan’s Global Value Chains Hongyong Zhang	41
4 Constructing a Chinese AI Global Supply Chain in the Shadow of “Great Power Competition” Victor Shih	60
5 Competition and Collaboration among East Asian Firms in the Smartphone Supply Chains Momoko Kawakami	77
6 Hidden Economic Costs of Geopolitical Disputes for Supply Chains in East Asia Kristen Aanstoos	96
7 Global Supply Chains and Great Power Competition in Africa Prince Paa-Kwesi Heto	115

PART II : DOMESTIC POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, AND SOCIAL DIMENSIONS OF GLOBAL SUPPLY CHAINS

- 8 Are Global Supply Chains Vital to China's Leaders? 135
Nazim Uras Demir and Etel Solingen
- 9 Firms Fight Back: Production Networks and Corporate
Opposition to the China Trade War 153
Jieun Lee and Iain Osgood
- 10 Understanding and Contesting Global Supply Chains in an Era
of Inequality 173
Erin Lockwood
- 11 Why Escalate? Cognitive Theory and Global Supply Chains in Northeast Asia 189
Phoebe W. Moon
- 12 The Role of Chinese Workers in Supply Chain Campaigns 211
Marissa Brookes

PART III : POSTSCRIPT ON COVID-19

- 13 On Covid-19, Global Supply Chains, and Geopolitics 229
Etel Solingen
- References* 251
- Index* 291