

FOUNDATIONS OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Edited by
Stephen McGlinchey

B L O O M S B U R Y

สำนักหอสมุด มหาวิทยาลัยเชียงใหม่

b16651510

012566536

122643990

FOUNDATIONS OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Edited by
Stephen McGlinchey

BLOOMSBURY ACADEMIC
LONDON • NEW YORK • OXFORD • NEW DELHI • SYDNEY

LONG CONTENTS

List of Figures, Maps, Tables and Photographs	xi
List of Boxes	xiv
About the Authors	xvi
Acknowledgements	xvii
Tour of the Book	xviii
Digital Resources	xx

GETTING STARTED xxii

1	Introduction to International Relations	1
	Introducing International Relations	1
	Establishing good academic practice	4

PART ONE: HISTORY AND THEORY 7

2	International Relations and the Global System	8
	The foundations of International Relations	9
	The making of the modern world	11
	Beyond a world of warfare?	15
	Conclusion	23
3	Discovery, Conquest and Colonialism	25
	The 1492 map of the world	26
	Conquest and conversion	29
	Discovery and the apocalypse	32
	1492 as a map of the present	35
	Conclusion	41
4	Towards Global International Relations	42
	Unpacking Western-dominated understandings of International Relations	43
	The international relations of Southern civilisations	45
	Towards 'Global International Relations'	46
	A multiplex world order	49
	Conclusion	54
5	Levels of Analysis	56
	Establishing the four levels of analysis	57
	Applying levels of analysis to the Covid-19 pandemic	61
	The added value of a levels of analysis framework	63
	Conclusion	69
6	Traditional and Middle Ground Theories	70
	Making sense of theory	71
	Liberalism and realism	72

	The English school and constructivism	77
	Conclusion	84
7	Critical Theories	85
	The evolution of theory	86
	Marxism	87
	Postcolonialism	89
	Feminism	92
	Poststructuralism	94
	Conclusion	99

PART TWO: GLOBAL STRUCTURES

101

8	International Organisations	102
	Intergovernmental organisations	103
	The diverse types of international organisation	107
	How international organisations add to our map of the world	109
	Conclusion	115
9	Global Civil Society	116
	Conditions for transnational activism	117
	Global civil society as a response to transnational exclusion	118
	Values promotion and creating change	120
	Contested legitimacy	122
	Civil society organisations and intergovernmental organisations	124
	Conclusion	130
10	International Political Economy	131
	Actors and interests	132
	Trade	134
	Production	136
	Finance	138
	Between global governance and deglobalisation	138
	Conclusion	145
11	International Law	146
	What law is international law?	147
	The contents of international law	149
	The functioning of international law	153
	Conclusion	159
12	Religion and Culture	160
	Elements of religion	161
	Elements of culture	164
	Religio-cultural identity: The both/and approach	167
	Conclusion	173
13	Gender and Sexuality	174
	Gender, sexuality and International Relations	175

Political representation	177
Human rights	178
Gender and the global economy	181
Conclusion	186

PART THREE: GLOBAL ISSUES 187

14 International Security	188
Traditional approaches to security	189
Moving beyond the state	191
Elements of human security	192
Protecting people	195
Conclusion	202
15 Transnational Terrorism	203
What is transnational terrorism?	204
Motivation and goals	205
Terrorist activities	207
Organisation and resources	211
Countering transnational terrorism	212
Conclusion	218
16 Migration	219
The International Relations of people's mobility	220
Structuring and categorising mobility	221
Controlling migration	224
Governing forced migration	226
Conclusion	232
17 Poverty and Wealth	233
Defining poverty	234
Reducing poverty	237
Globalisation and the wealth–poverty dynamic	240
Conclusion	245
18 Global Health	247
The values underpinning global health	248
Distribution and determinants of global health	249
Setting goals for health	250
Global health law	253
Health in waging war and peace	254
Conclusion	260
19 Environment and Climate	261
Towards a global consensus	262
The environment as a global commons	265
Global and domestic policy responses	268
Conclusion	274

20	Connectivity and Exploitation in the Digital Age	275
	The internet and digital commerce	276
	Digital communications	279
	Reliance and vulnerability	282
	Conclusion	289

REFLECTING ON INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

290

21	Crossings and Candles	291
	The four-minute mile	292
	World-making	296
	Conclusion	304

	References	305
	Index	318