

Richard W. Mansbach
and Ellen B. Pirro

ROUTLEDGE

Introduction to Global Politics

FOURTH EDITION

b16706250
o 12577923
i 22686435

Introduction to Global Politics

Fourth Edition

Richard W. Mansbach
and Ellen B. Pirro

Contents

List of figures	xv	Conclusion	29
List of tables	xvii	Student activities	30
List of maps	xix	Map analysis	30
About the authors	xxi	Cultural materials	30
Preface	xxiii	Further reading	31
		Notes	31
Prologue	xxv
Global change	xxv
Global continuity and the importance of history	xxviii
Threats and opportunities	xxxi
The plan of the book	xxxii
Part I Theory and global politics	1	Part II The past as prologue to the present	35
1 Theoretical approaches to global politics	2	2 The evolution of the interstate system	36
What is theory and why do we need it?	3	The emergence of the European interstate system	38
Many theories, many meanings	6	The transition from Europe's Middle Ages	39
Levels of analysis	7	Machiavelli's world: Italy's city-states	42
The individual	7	On the road to sovereignty	43
The unit	8	From dynastic to popular sovereignty	46
The global system	8	China: the Confucian empire	56
Making sense of a complex world: theory and global politics	9	Islam's founding and expansion	59
The great debates: an introduction to different worldviews	9	The Caliphate	60
Marxism and critical theory	23	Cracks in the Islamic community	62
Feminist international relations	26	Islam and Christendom: the Crusades	63
		The Ottoman Empire – Islam versus Europe	63
		Conclusion	66

Student activities	67	4 The Cold War	106
Map analysis	67	Explaining the origins of the Cold War	107
Cultural materials	67	Individual-level explanations:
Further reading	67	Stalin, Churchill, Truman, and Mao	107
Notes	67	Unit-level explanations	108
3 The world wars	70	Global system-level explanations	111
Events leading to the Great War	71	Theory and the onset of the Cold War	115
German unification and Europe's diplomatic revolution	72	The Cold War spreads and deepens	116
Arms races, nationalism, and the Balkan imbroglio	74	Containment	116
Crisis diplomacy	76	Militaryizing the Cold War	118
The final descent to war	77	The Cold War winds down	126
Explaining the outbreak of World War One	81	The end of the Cold War	131
Individual-level explanations	81	Resurgent Russia	134
Unit-level explanations	81	Conclusion	139
Global system-level explanations	83	Student activities	139
The Peace of Versailles	84	Map analysis	139
Woodrow Wilson and the Fourteen Points	85	Cultural materials	139
Versailles and the principle of national self-determination	87	Further reading	140
The League of Nations and the failure of collective security	89	Notes	140
Origins and controversies	91	5 Decolonization and the global South	142
The League's record in securing peace	92	Europe's empires	143
Appeasement and its consequences	93	The early conquerors: Spain and Portugal	143
On the road to Pearl Harbor	96	Holland	145
Explaining the outbreak of World War Two	97	France and Great Britain	145
Individual-level explanations	97	Late imperialism	146
Unit-level explanations	98	The decolonization of Asia and Africa	150
Global system-level explanations	100	India: from colony to great power	150
Conclusion	102	Decolonization in Africa	154
Student activities	102	The politics of nonalignment, nation-building, and economic development	160
Map analysis	102	Nonalignment	160
Cultural materials	102	Modernization and postcolonial theory	161
Further reading	103	Failed and fragile states	162
Notes	103	Other fragile states	166

The BRICS, emerging markets, and global governance	169	Cultural materials	207
Conclusion	175	Further reading	207
Student activities	175	Notes	208
Cultural materials	175
Further reading	175	Part III Living dangerously in a
Notes	175	dangerous world	211
6 Globalization: The new frontier	178	7 Great issues in contemporary global
Features of globalization	179	politics	212
The spread of communication and information technologies	180	The nuclear proliferation regime	212
The declining importance of territory	180	Dangers of horizontal proliferation	215
The spread of knowledge and skills and the participation explosion	180	India and Pakistan	215
Capitalism and the emergence of a global market	184	North Korea and Iran	216
The privatization of public functions	186	China and the United States: a
The spread of global culture	187	new bipolarity?	220
The spread of democratic norms	188	From hostility to engagement	220
The emergence of global civil society	190	Strategic partners or strategic rivals?	221
Diffusion of global power	192	Taiwan	221
The changing nature of security	193	Military rivalry	223
The growing importance of nonstate identities and loyalties	195	Sino-American policies interests in North Korea and Iran	224
The historical roots of globalization	196	China and Human Rights	224
Competing perspectives on globalization	197	Israel and Palestine	225
The globalization debate	198	Palestine after World War One	225
The anti-globalizers	199	Israel's wars with its Arab neighbors	227
The pro-globalizers	200	From crisis to crisis: the Yom Kippur War, Lebanon, and Camp David	228
The state in decline?	202	Oslo and the intifadas	231
The limits of sovereignty	203	The Gaza imbroglio	232
Conclusion	206	Impediments to peace	233
Student activities	207	Several factors stand in the way of a lasting solution to the conflict	234
Map exercise	207	US-Israeli relations: from Bush to Biden	235
		Militant Islam: the "Green Menace"	236
		Fundamentalism	236

The Iranian revolution and its consequences	238	Further reading	285
Afghanistan and Iraq	240	Notes	286
The Afghan background	240	9 Technology and the changing face of warfare	290
The Soviet invasion and Islamic resistance	240	War as an extension of politics	291
The Afghan War	241	Karl Maria von Clausewitz, "What Is War?"	292
The Iraq dimension	242	On the road to absolute war: the world wars	293
The changing Middle East	248	Technology and interstate war	295
Conclusion	249	Technology and World War One	295
Student activities	249	The tank	297
Cultural materials	249	Technology and World War Two	298
Further reading	249	The Dresden bombing	299
Notes	250	Technology and the Cold War standoff	300
8 Power in global politics and the causes of war	254	Strategies in a nuclear age	301
The quest for power and influence	255	Nuclear deterrence in the Cold War	302
The purposes of power	256	Nuclear deterrence today	304
The elements of power	260	Irregular warfare	305
The causes of interstate war	263	Guerrillas, anti-colonial struggles, and revolutionary war	305
The individual level: human nature and psychology	263	Global terrorism	307
The unit level: foreign policy and war	266	Al Qaeda and Islamic terrorism	310
The global system level and war	270	America's War on Terror: the rise of the Islamic State (ISIS)	310
Controversy: polarity	271	Technology in modern conflicts and wars	313
The causes of intrastate war	280	Smart weapons	313
Individual-level explanations	280	Cyberwar	315
Unit-level explanations	280	Conclusion	318
The fallout of interstate conflict: the global system level of analysis	282	Student activities	319
Managing intrastate war	283	Map analysis	319
Foreign intervention	283	Cultural materials	319
Power-sharing	283	Further reading	319
Physical separation	284	Notes	319
Conclusion	284
Student activities	285
Map analysis	285
Cultural materials	285

10 Managing conflict: international law and international and transnational organization	324	The "law of nations"	325	The brutal break-up of Yugoslavia	377
Sources and evolution of international law	326	The just war tradition	328	Nationalism in the Balkan Wars	378
International organizations	331	The United Nations	333	Religious identities	380
Early expectations	333	The UN and the maintenance of peace	337	Ethnic identities	383
UN organs	333	The UN and the future	343	Approaches to culture	384
Regional international organizations	346	European (dis)union? Brexit	349	A clash of civilizations?	384
The European Union (EU)	346	Other regional organizations	351	Alternative cultural models	388
Conclusion	355	Student activities	355	Conclusion	388
Map analysis	355	Map exercise	359	Student activities	389
Cultural materials	355	Further reading	355	Map exercise	389
Further reading	355	Notes	355	Cultural materials	389
Notes	355			Further reading	389
				Notes	389
Part IV Global issues	359			12 International political economy	392
11 Identity politics: nationalism, religion, and ethnicity	360			The beginnings of a global economy	394
Multiple identities	361			Theories of political economy	395
Conflicting identities and national (dis)unity	361			Mercantilism	395
Divided loyalties?	365			Economic liberalism	398
The "fifth column": "We" versus "them" in global politics	367			Marxism	401
Identities and technological change	368			The Great Depression	404
Manipulating identities	369			The Depression begins	404
Virgil's The Aeneid	372			The Depression spreads	405
Nationalism	372			The Bretton Woods institutions	406
The bases of nationalism	373			The International Monetary Fund (IMF)	408
Nations, states, and nation-states	375			The World Bank	411
				The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)/ World Trade Organization (WTO)	412
				Hegemonic stability theory	416
				Transnational corporations: engines of global capitalism	417
				The global reach of TNCs	417
				Criticisms of TNCs	419
				Reforming TNCs	421
				States and markets	422
				The Asian contagion	422
				The American contagion	423
				China's economic model	426
				Conclusion	427
				Student activities	427
				Map analysis	427
				Cultural materials	427

Further reading	427	Cultural materials	460
Notes	428	Further reading	461
		Notes	461
13 Human rights: the individual in global politics	432	14 Human security	466
The Holocaust and the Genocide Convention	434	The concept of human security	466
The Nuremberg precedent and the evolution of international criminal tribunals	438	Poverty and economic development	468
The Nuremberg and Japanese trials	438	Global dimensions of poverty	468
Ethnic cleansing in Yugoslavia	440	International institutions and global poverty	470
The Rwandan genocide and civil war in Sierra Leone	441	Debt relief	471
Cambodia's "killing fields"	442	Foreign aid and investment	473
The Uighur genocide	442	Access to markets	474
The International Criminal Court	443	Transnational crime	476
The doctrine of universal jurisdiction	445	Responses to drug trafficking	478
Individual rights under international law	445	Money laundering	478
Sources of human rights	446	The arms trade	479
The elaboration of human rights	448	The global arms market	479
Explanations of human-rights abuses	450	The black market in weapons of mass destruction	480
Amnesty International	451	Responses to the global arms trade	481
Women's rights as human rights	452	The global movement of persons	482
Gender (in)equality	453	Refugees	482
Violence against women	454	Undocumented aliens	484
Reproductive independence	457	Immigration and demography	485
Should women have equal rights... everywhere?	458	Human trafficking	485
Conclusion	460	Globalized diseases	486
Student activities	460	Epidemics and pandemics	486
Map exercise	460	Coronavirus COVID-19 pandemic	490
		Doctors Without Borders	493
		Medical tourism	494
		Conclusion	494
		Student activities	495
		Cultural materials	495
		Further reading	495
		Notes	495

15 The environment: a global collective good	502	Map exercise	531
Collective goods and collective fates	503	Cultural materials	531
Climate change	505	Further reading	531
Population and environment	506	Notes	531
Population trends	507
Increasing conflict?	508
Defusing the population bomb	511
Deteriorating global ecology	512	Part V Epilogue	537
China	513	Epilogue: A future dimly seen	538
Global energy politics	513	Alternative futures	540
Fossil fuels and global warming	516	A globalized world	540
Too little food	523	A world of liberal institutions	541
Vanishing forests and encroaching deserts	524	A world in chaos	542
Water: drying seas and drying wells	526	A realist world	543
Environmental IGOs	528	Conclusion: an uncertain future	546
Greenpeace	529	Student activities	547
Conclusion	530	Cultural materials	547
Student activities	531	Further reading	547
		Notes	547
		Glossary of key terms	549
		Index	565