

---

AFFECT, EMOTIONS AND POWER IN DEVELOPMENT STUDIES THEORY AND PRACTICE

---

Edited by Tanya Jakimow

---

ROUTLEDGE

THIRDWORLDS

TWO BOOKSERIES

thirdworldquarterly

สำนักหอสมุด มหาวิทยาลัยเชียงใหม่

46x
7,650 -

Affect, Emotions and Power in Development Studies Theory and Practice

6 16721994
0 12584666
1 22705686

Edited by
Tanya Jakimow

Contents

	Citation Information	vii
	Notes on Contributors	ix
	Introduction—Understanding power in development studies through emotion and affect: promising lines of enquiry Tanya Jakimow	1
1	Indigenous peoples' responses to land exclusions: emotions, affective links and power relations Sochanny Hak, Yvonne Underhill-Sem and Chanrith Ngin	13
2	Solidarity and 'social jealousy': emotions and affect in Indonesian host society's situated encounters with refugees Mahardhika Sjamsoe'oed Sadjad	31
3	Feeling climate change to the bone: emotional topologies of climate Sarah Wright, Jagjit Plahe and Gavin Jack	49
4	Intimate technologies for affective development: how crowdfunding platforms commodify interpersonal connections Shonali Ayesha Banerjee	68
5	Affective politics of Australian development volunteering Susanne Schech	87
6	Vulnerability as ethical practice: dismantling affective privilege and resilience to transform development hierarchies Tanya Jakimow	105
7	'Doing good and feeling good': how narratives in development stymie gender equality in organisations Joyce Wu	122
8	Benevolent discipline: governing affect in post-Yolanda disaster reconstruction in the Philippines Kaira Zoe Alburo-Cañete	139

9	(Dis)comfort, judgement and solidarity: affective politics of academic publishing in development studies Kaira Zoe Alburo-Cañete, Shonali Ayesha Banerjee, Sochanny Hak, Tanya Jakimow, Chanrith Ngin, Mahardhika Sjamsoe'oad Sadjad, Susanne Schech, Yvonne Underhill-Sem and Joyce Wu	161
	Index	173